

HACAWA

With the 72nd volume of the HACAWA we take an affectionate look at Lenoir-Rhyne College — its past, its present, and its future.

The past has been a noble one. Founded in 1891, the institution, now in its 89th year of service, is affiliated with the Lutheran Church in America. Many great teachers, administrators, and alumni have poured their lives into making the soul of the college. They have carried it through lean years as well as full ones. They add much to our past. The noble heritage of Lenoir-Rhyne will be the subject of the HACAWA in the 75th anniversary edition of the yearbook in 1983 and in the Centennial of the college in 1991.

The present is exciting. New programs, new buildings, new career opportunities, new frontiers have been undertaken to make LR an active community of learning. While this issue of the HACAWA does deal with both the past and the future, it is understandably the present that occupies most of our pages.

The future should be a great one. Plans have been formulated to strengthen the college's finances, to enrich many of its programs, to add still further to our attractive physical plant, and to remain committed to a church—related stance.

We hope you enjoy your yearbook and derive from it some of the sense of challenge that we felt as we constructed its pages. The present for Bear Country is something to brag about and we have tried to do just that. May in this fleeting glance at the rich unfolding story of Lenoir-Rhyne College you also be proud of that "fair star of Caroline" that is our Alma Mater.

HOME OF THE BEARS

NOBLE IN PAST . . .

Founded in 1891, the past of Lenoir-Rhyne College is a noble adventure that has involved the sacrifices of many men and women. On land deeded by Walter Lenoir, strengthened by the gift of Daniel Rhyne, the college has grown and prospered and enriched the lives of all who have labored here. Her sons and daughters have given to the church, the community, and the world.

Exciting In Present — Academic Life

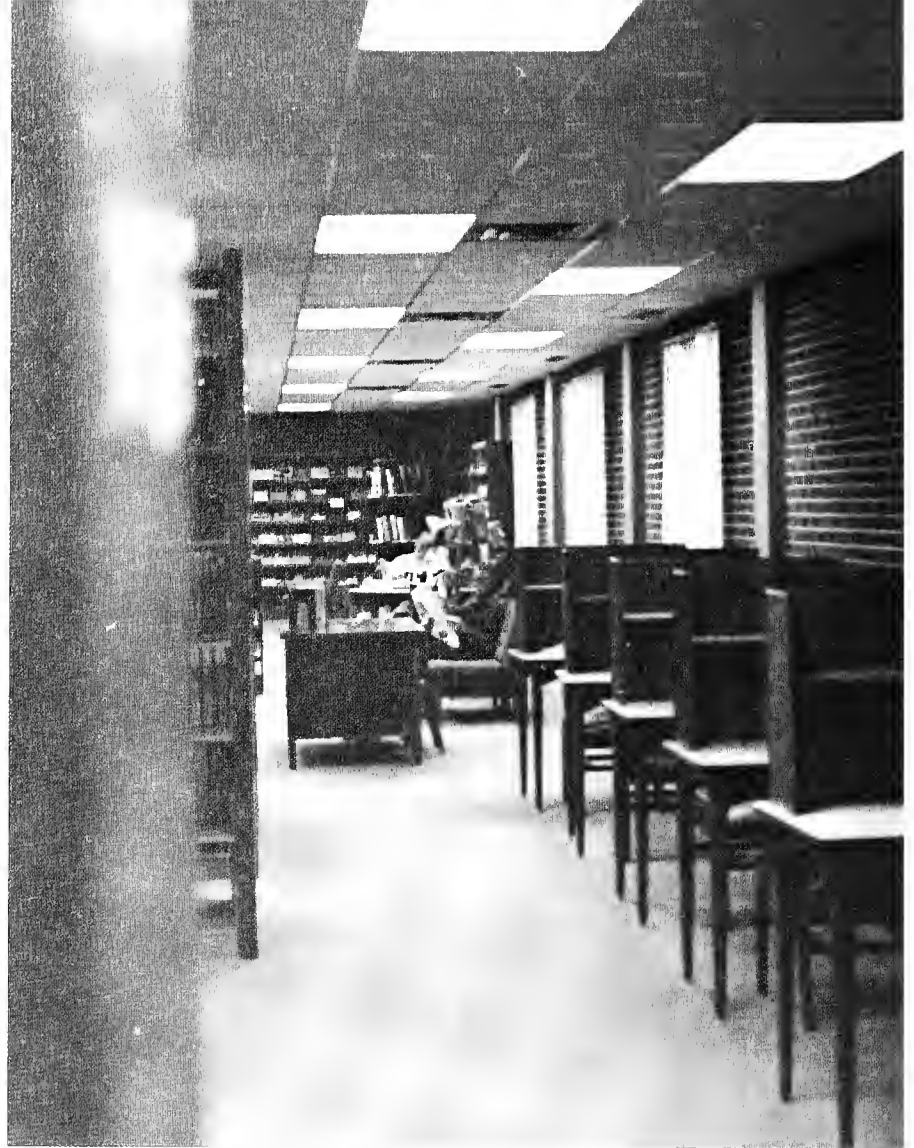

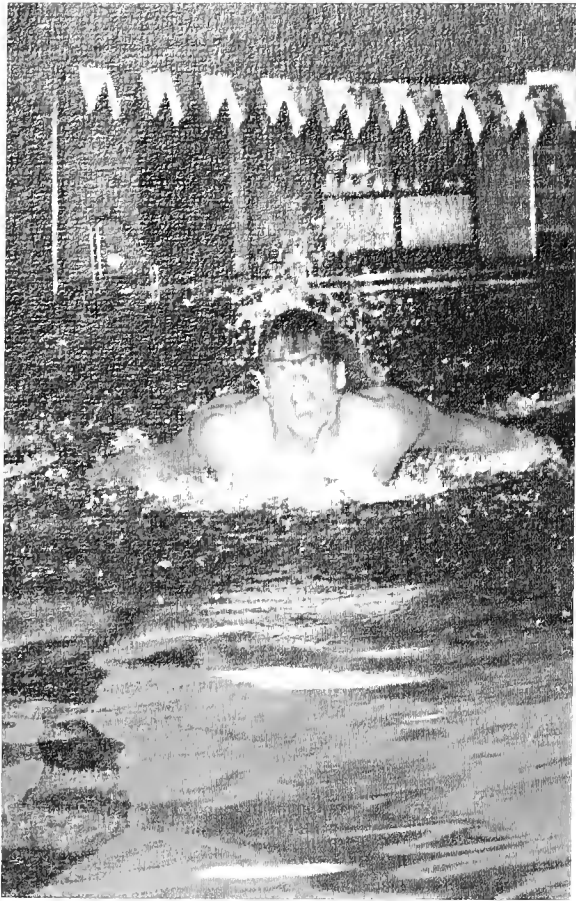

This is a community of learning . . . whether it be directing a play, practicing archery, or absorbing a new language—

—or searching in a biology lab, respiratory therapy in a nursing class, or taking a chemistry exam.

... THE CAMPUS

Ours is a beautiful campus — from the quiet elegance of Rudisill Library to the splash of the new Shuford pool; from the dogwoods of spring to the changing leaves of fall; from the stately Rhyne building to the dignity of the Cross on the Quad.

—Music

Music at Lenoir-Rhyne is not only a performing art, but also a teaching discipline. Students, who take part in choir, band, musicals, and individual performances, are all part of a vital, creative, and talented program at LR.

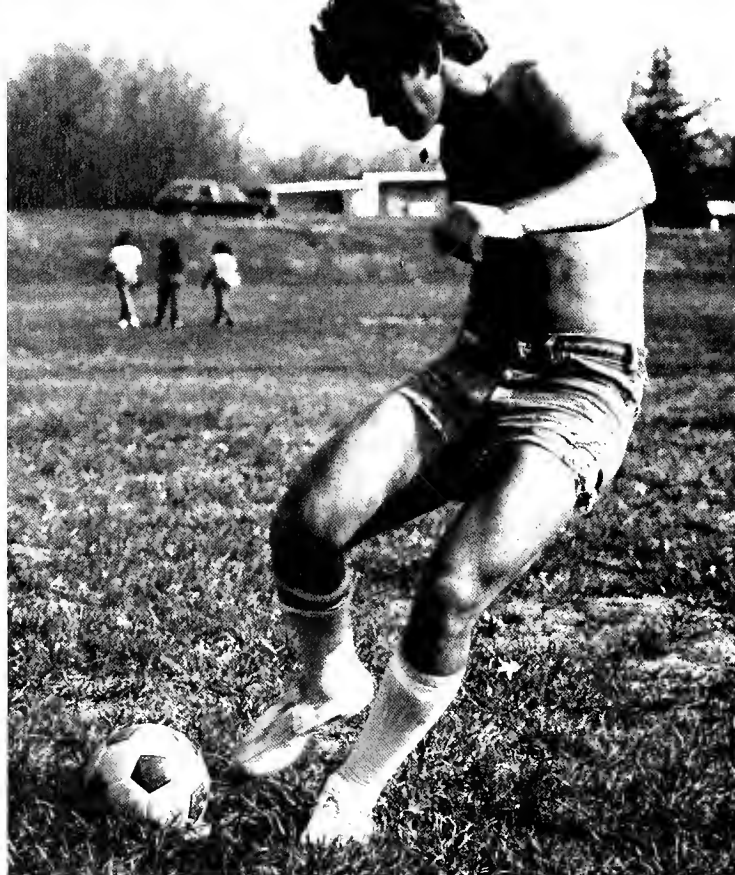

... THEATRE

No non-athletic activity at LR attracts more community support and involvement than theatre. At Lenoir-Rhyne drama is first-rate and reflects a firm commitment to the arts. "Godspell" and "The King and I" have been recent successes on the LR stage.

—Sports

Lenoir-Rhyne is Bear Country. Whether it be intercollegiate athletics or intramurals, a large number of LR students are involved in sports.

Excellence is the goal in men's and women's sports — covering a wide range of competitive sports: football, basketball, tennis, golf, baseball, volleyball, and softball, as well as a varied program in intramurals.

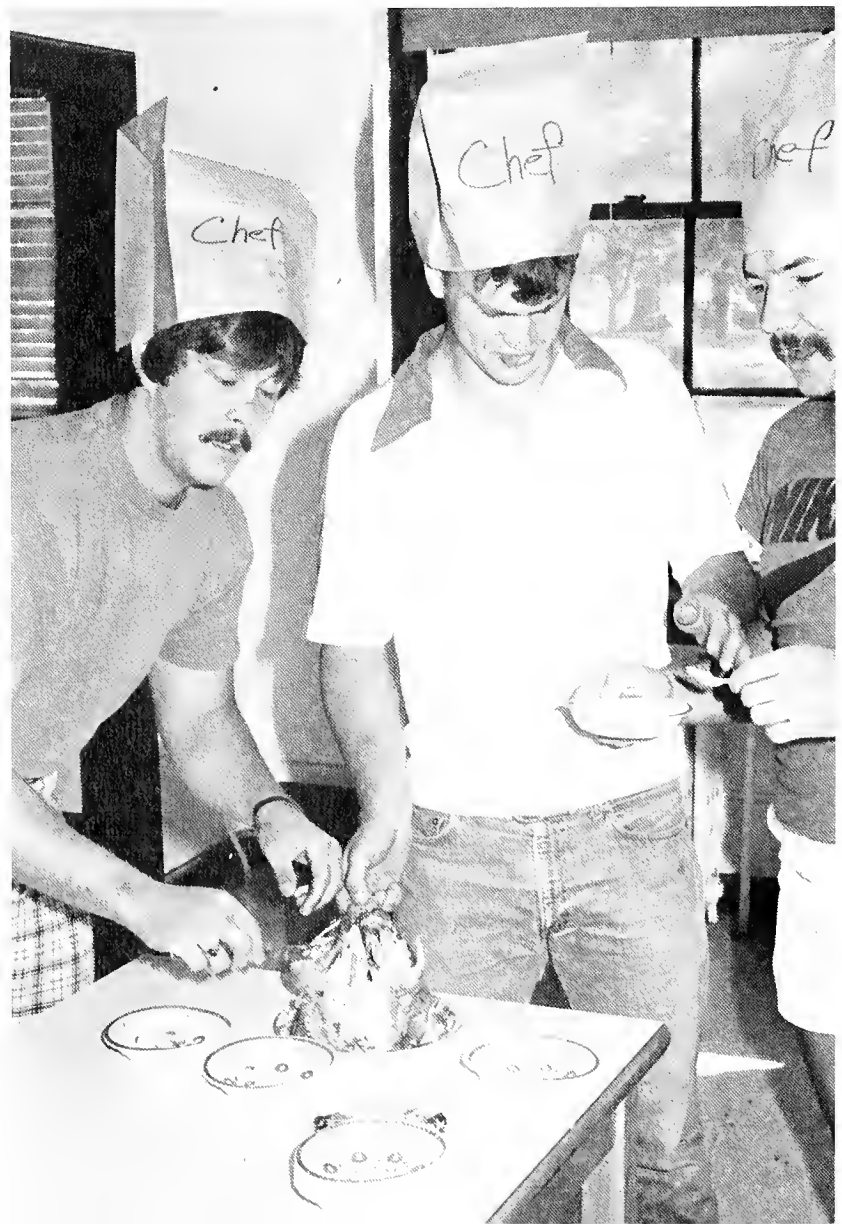

—People

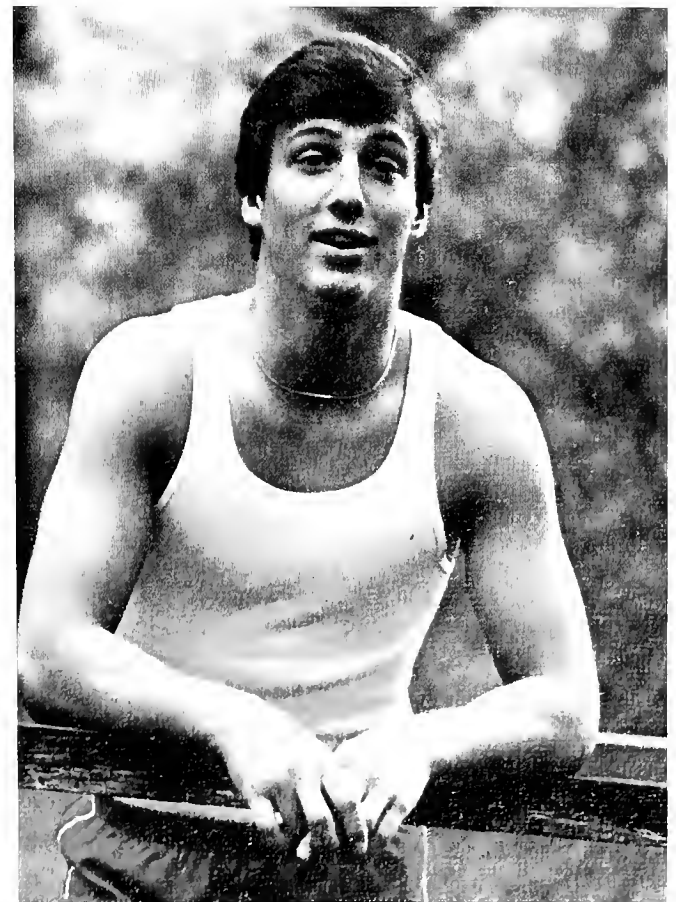

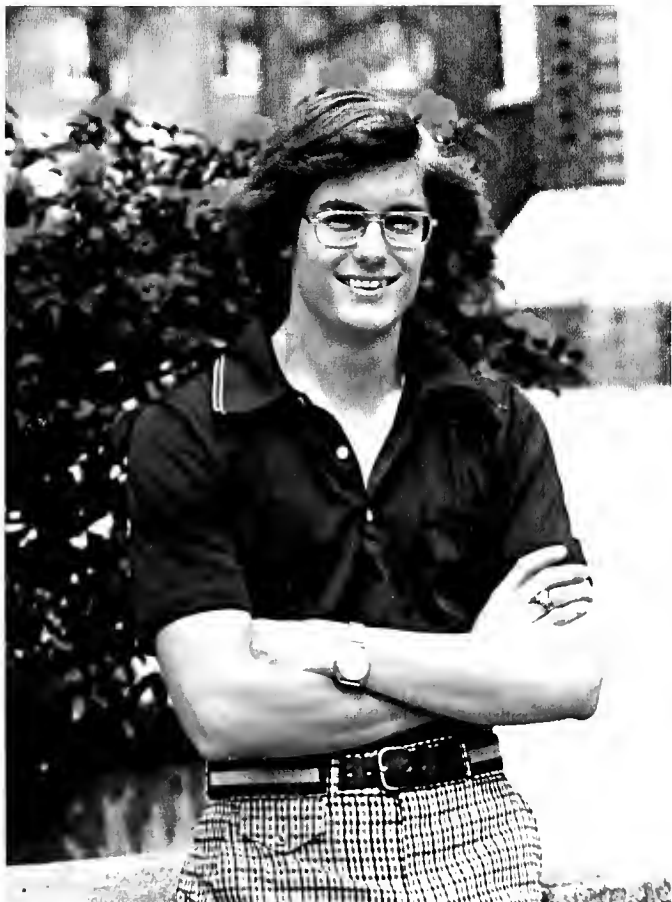

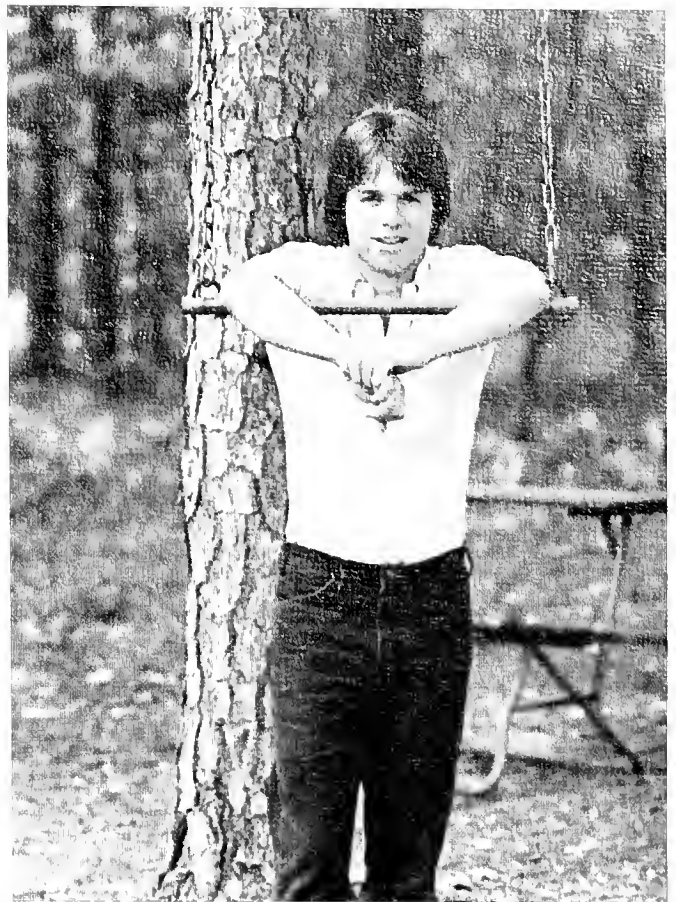

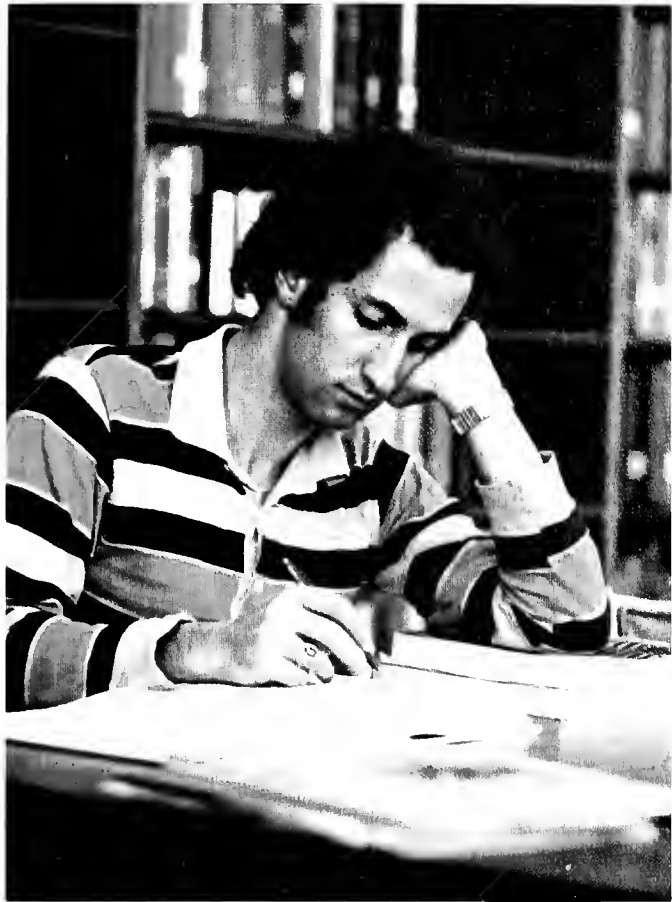

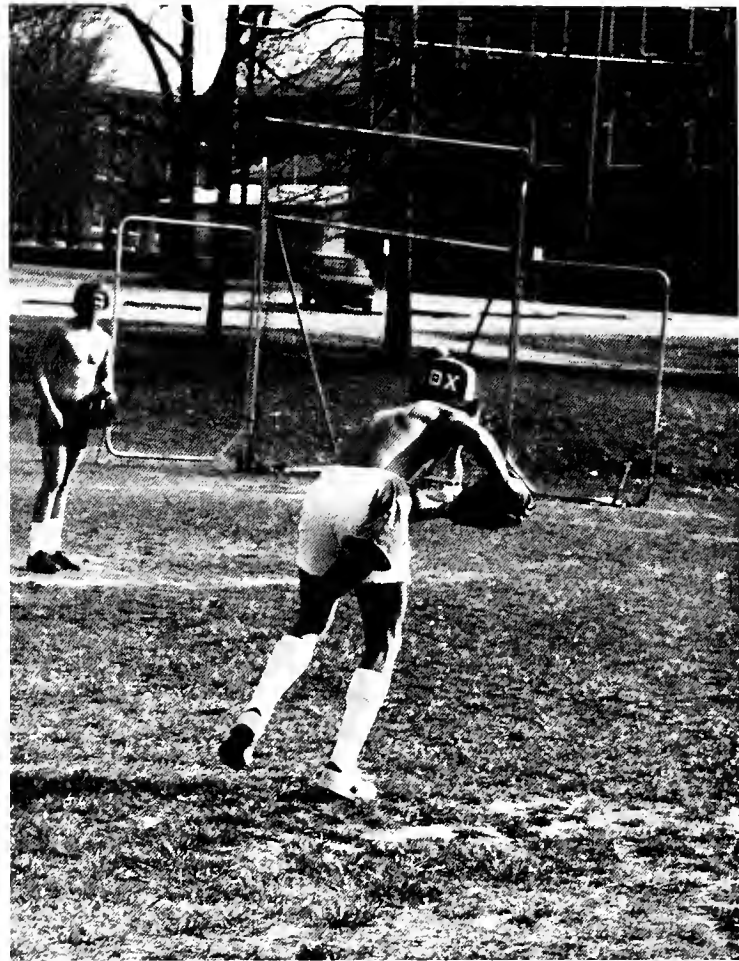

The raw material of our college community is its citizens—students teachers, staff, administrators. We blend together in a mosaic of races, religions, national origins, hometowns, academic majors, life styles, and future interests.

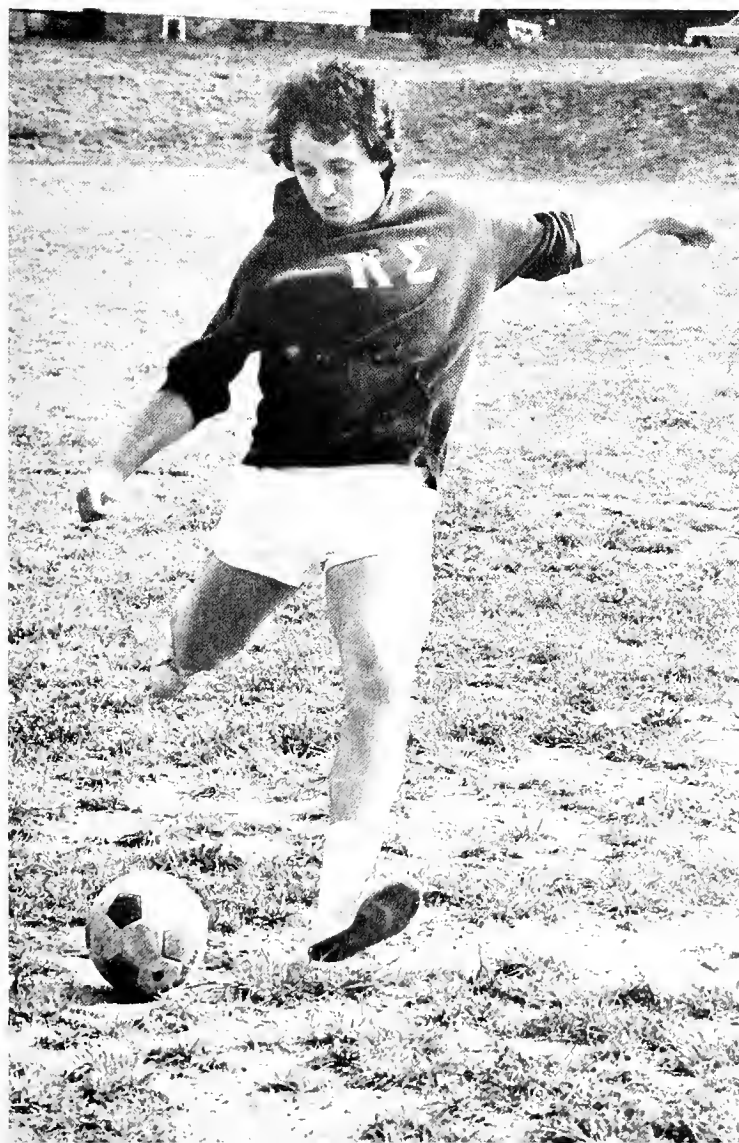

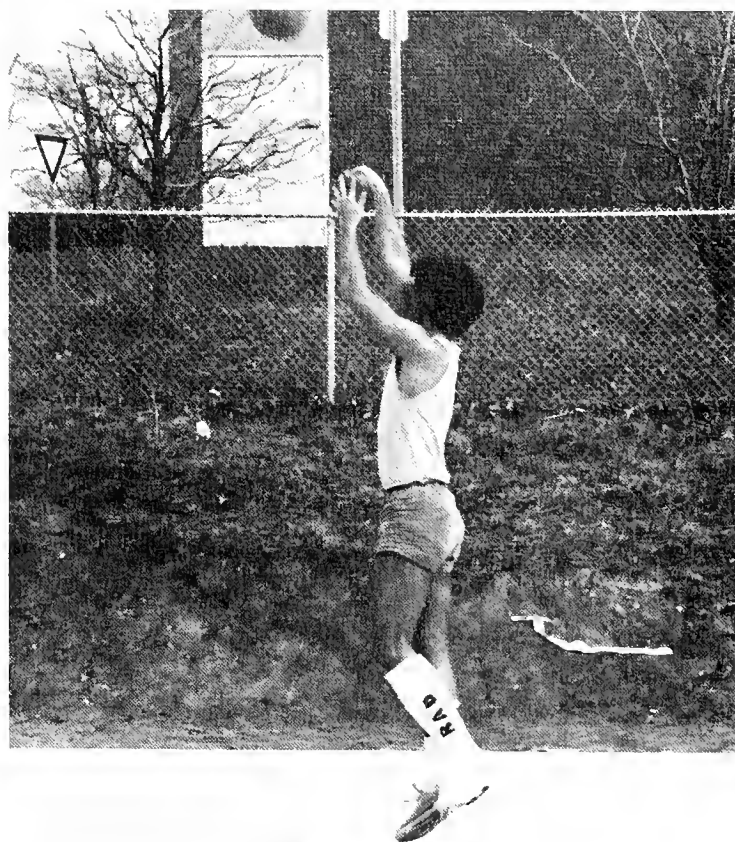

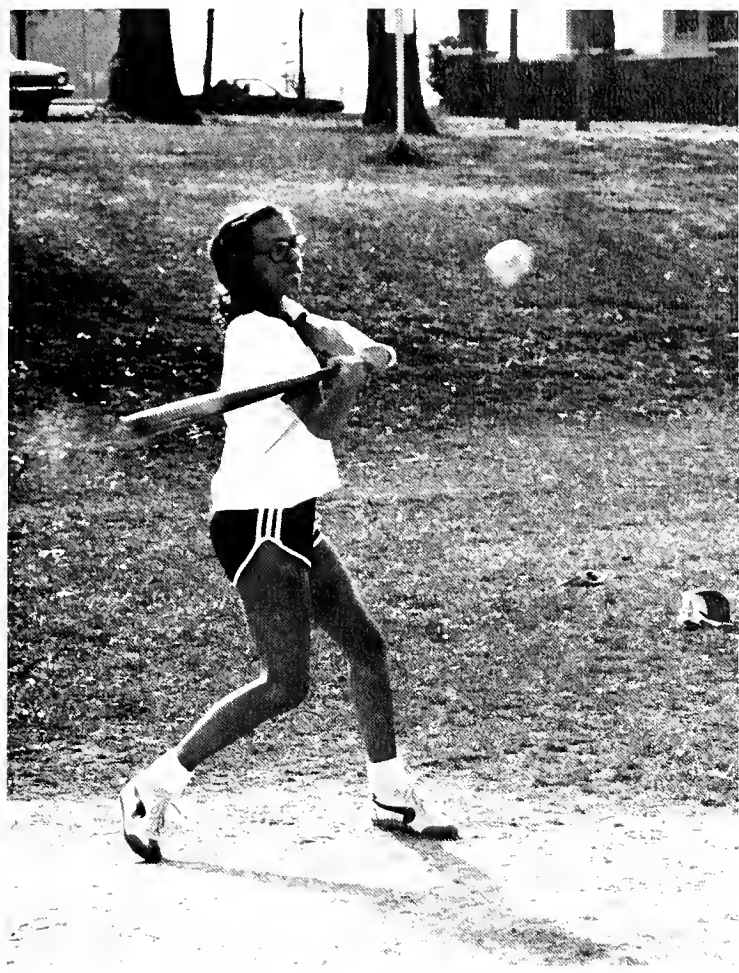

... THE BIG EVENT

No single event at LR carries the pageantry of Homecoming. Faculty, students, community, and alumni join together to make Alma Mater the focal point for celebration.

Great In Future — Classroom Building, Fine

The future of Lenoir-Rhyne is bright with promise. New changes in the academic core curriculum are in the offing, a vital May Term, new courses in Business, and the academic challenge offered by the Lineberger and Broyhill institutes.

The face of the campus will also be changed in the years that lie ahead. The renovation of the Rhyne classroom building will soon get underway. The renovating will include air-conditioning, the modifications of classrooms, and general face-lifting to the entire structure.

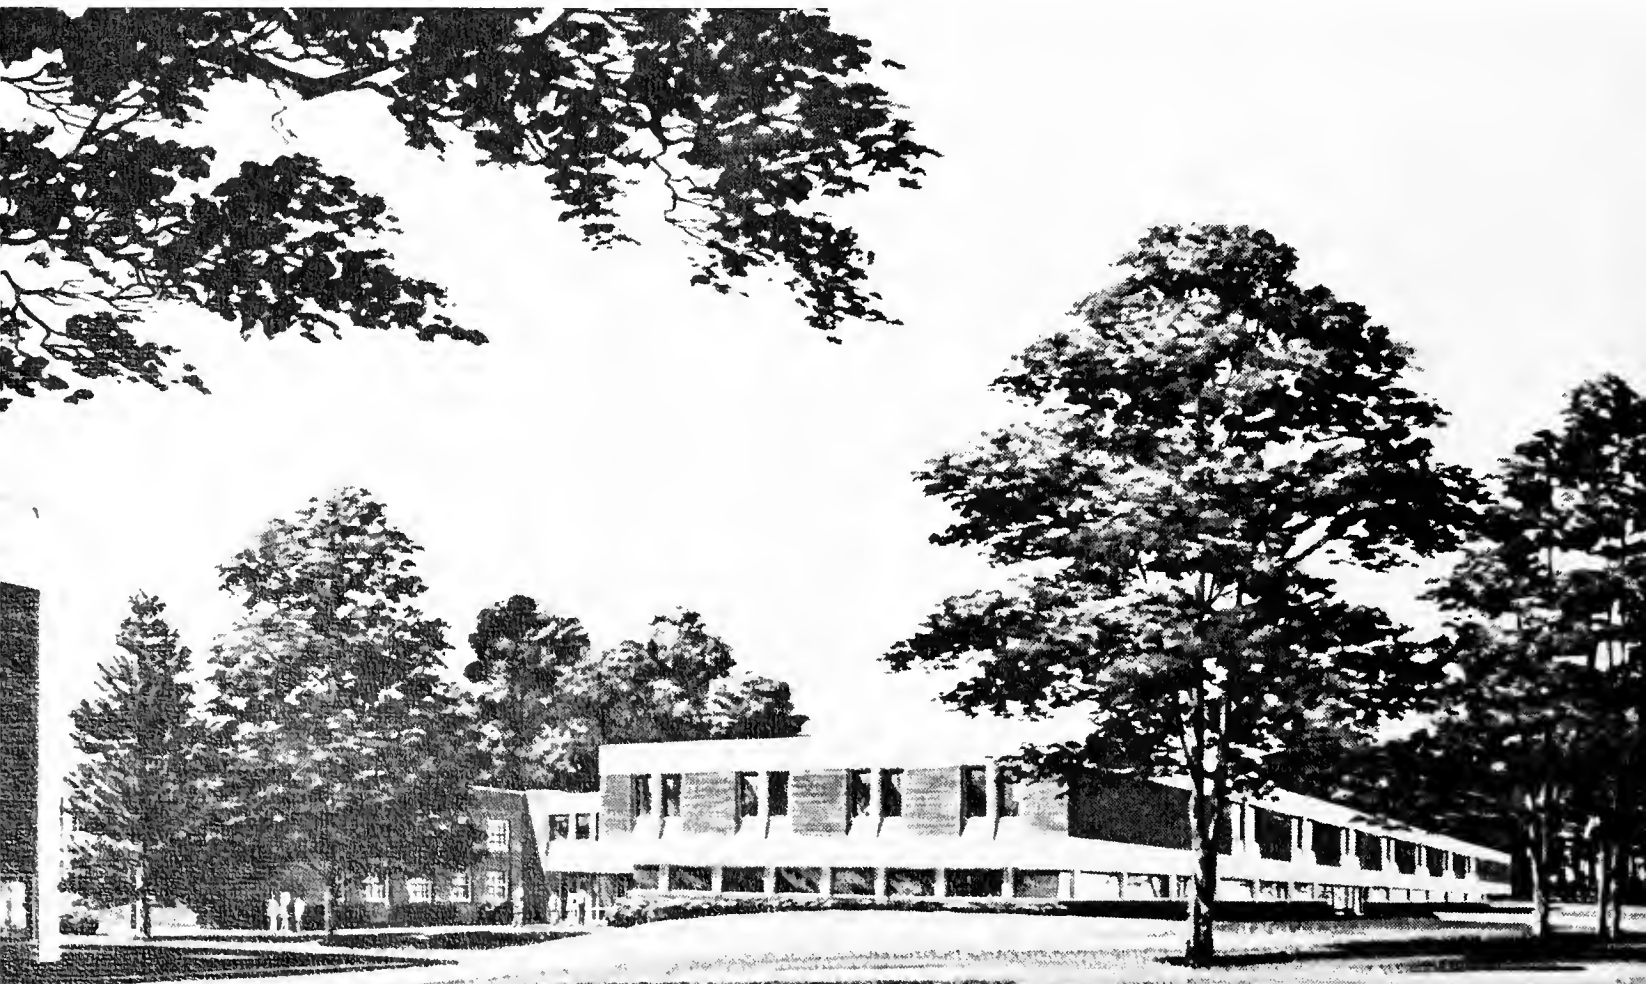

A new classroom building is to be built adjoining Rhyne. The new structure will include an amphitheatre seating up to 300, which will permit a single large classroom when needed, or ample dividers to break the room up into smaller units. A large complex of faculty offices will also be included in the new classroom building. It is expected that the present Yoder building will be razed to provide room for the new structure.

The third component of the anticipated building project will be the construction of an addition to the Rudisill Library to house 20-25 student seminar rooms and learning resources. The college is well on its way to completing a catalog of all college-owned print and non-print learning resources, most of which will be housed in the new building.

The future of LR also holds the exciting promise of a Fine Arts Complex. This structure, proposed for the space adjacent to Monroe auditorium on the present site of North Hall, would feature a Little Theatre seating some 225 people. The theatre would be used for arena-productions by the playwrights and also for chapel programs and similar meetings. The Fine Arts building would also contain an art gallery, classrooms and storage areas.

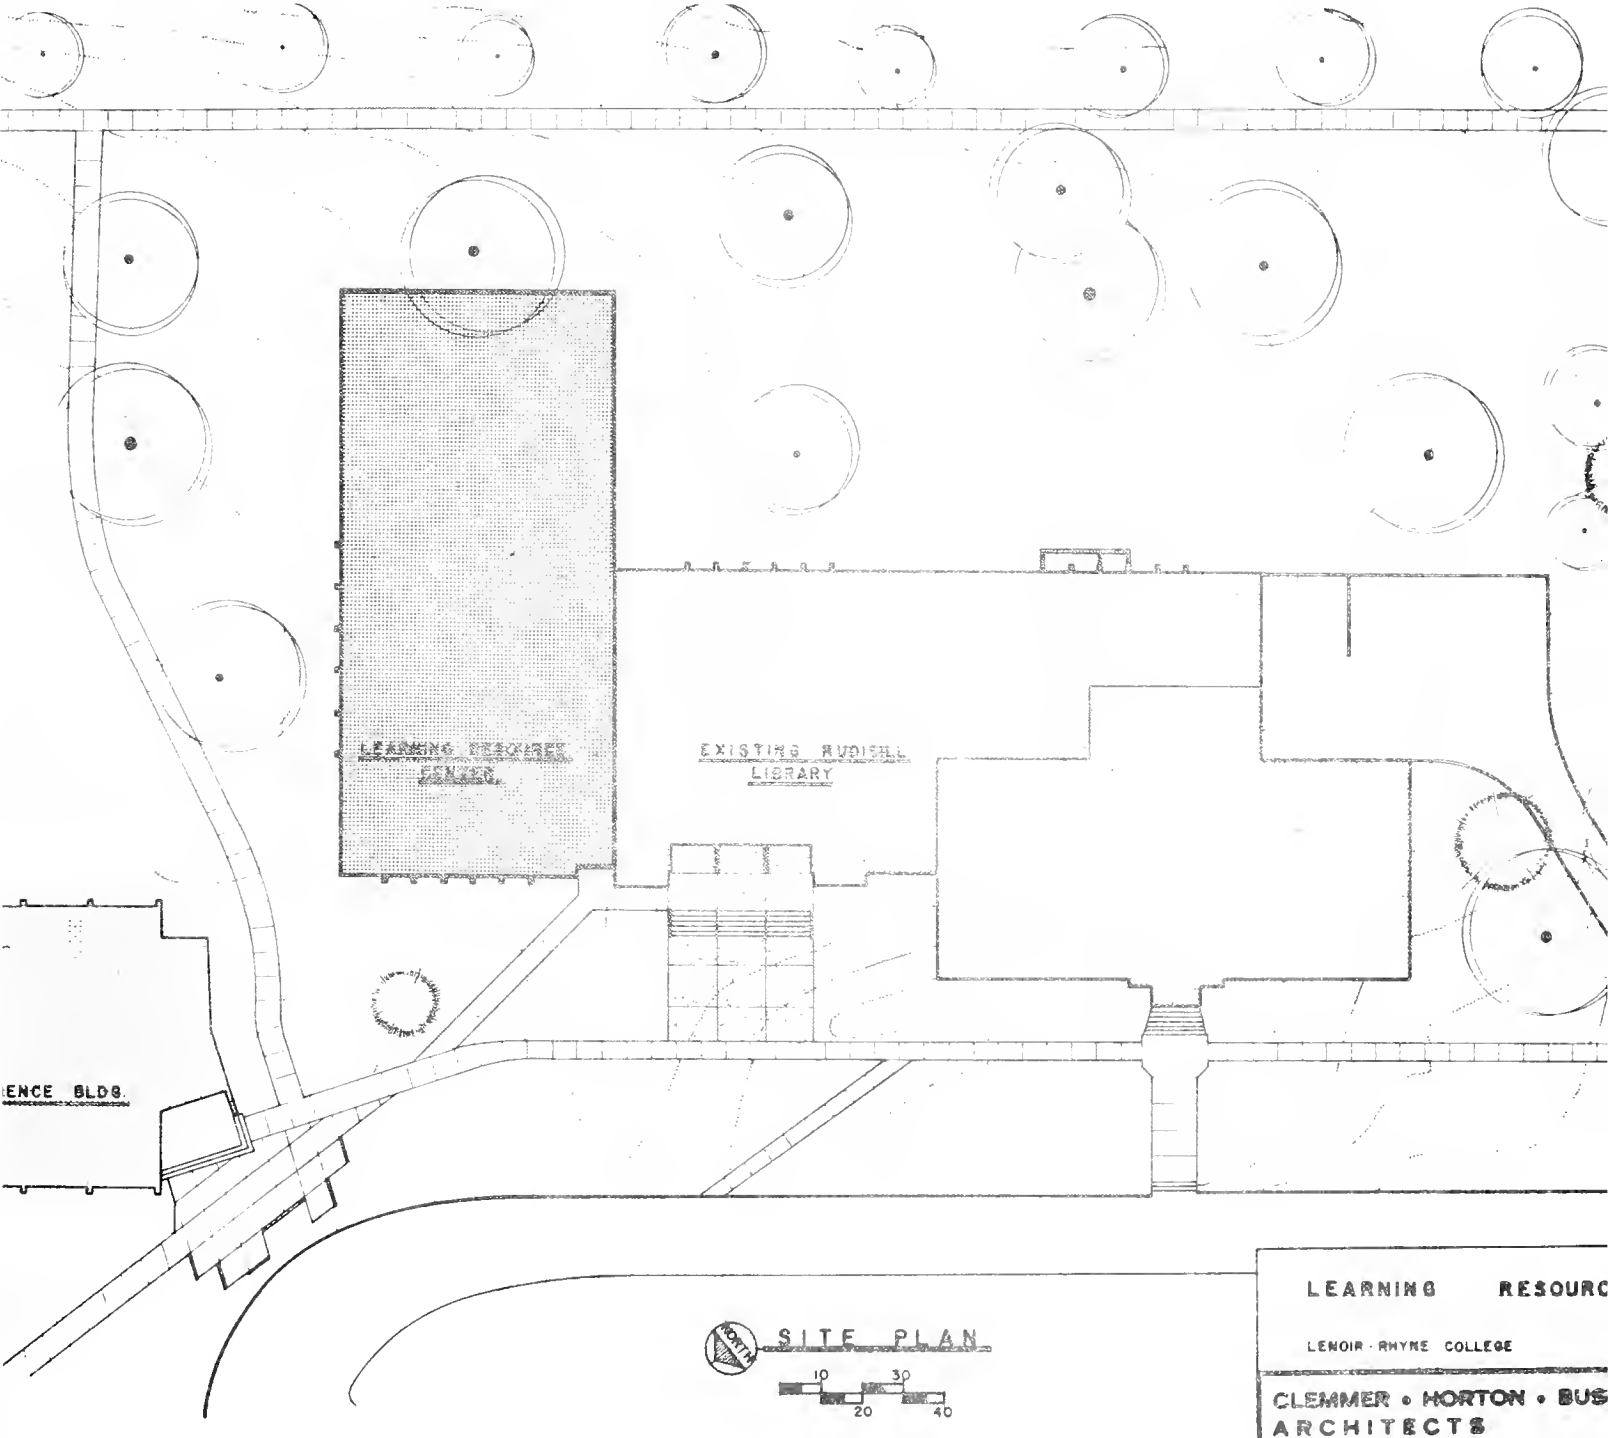

To join with the new Shuford Building would be a sports complex that would feature a proposed Field House, to be constructed in the area next to Morgan Dorm. It is anticipated that five new tennis courts would be added, a track would be built, and numerous renovations made to present College Field. When completed, these new additions would give Lenoir-Rhyne one of the most handsome sports arenas in the nation.

One can not help but be anxious and delighted as the future is contemplated. Improved and extended classroom opportunities, a little theatre which is so badly needed, additional athletic facilities for Bear Country, and extended curriculum benefits join to make LR the place to be.

The President

Dr. Albert B. Anderson, a graduate of Harvard University, was inaugurated as president of Lenoir-Rhyne College in January, 1977.

A native of North Dakota, Dr. Anderson came to LR from Minnesota where he was the director of a three-college consortium headquartered in Moorhead. President Anderson's bachelor's degree is from Concordia College, he holds a theology degree from Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, received a master's degree from the University of Minnesota, and holds the doctorate from Harvard.

The president is shown at his desk (right) in the Lineberger building, and with his family (below) in the President's Home on campus. With Dr. Anderson and first lady Mrs. Anita Anderson are their two sons, three daughters, daughter-in-law, and family pet Vinje.

During the Anderson presidency the college has experienced physical growth and a strong commitment to academic excellence.

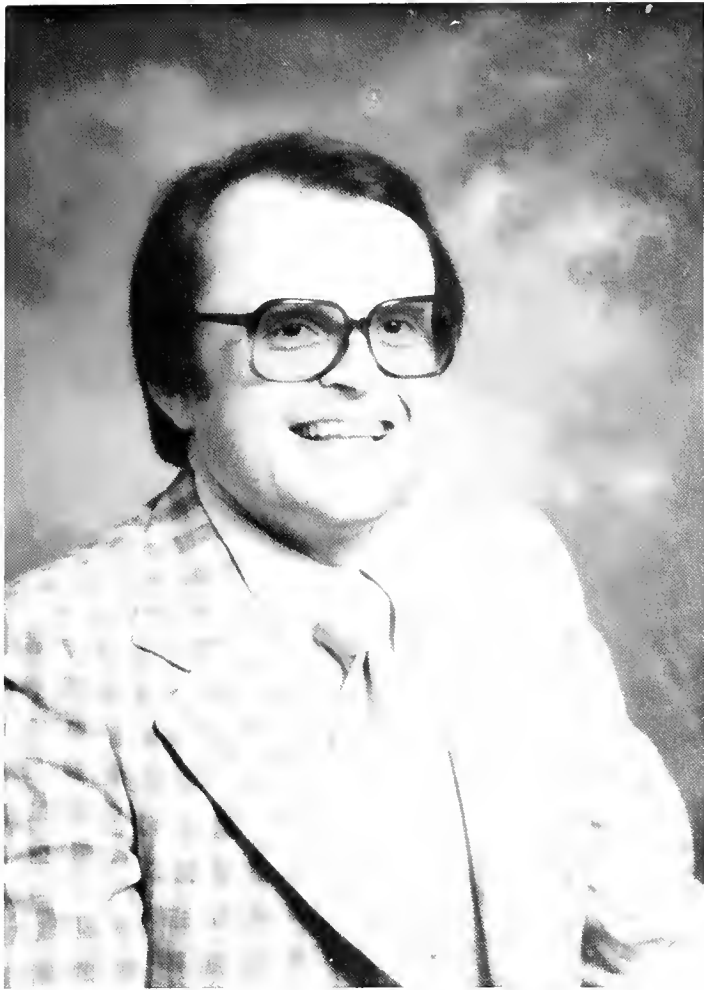

The Dean

Dr. Arthur E. Poutinen (left) is in his second year as Academic Dean of Lenoir-Rhyne College.

A graduate of Suomi College (Michigan), Augustana College (Illinois), the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago, and the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, Dean Puotinen also held several pastorates in Michigan and Illinois.

Dr. Puotinen is actively involved in the campus' many activities and is widely known as a man of wit and wisdom. He enjoys popularity with both faculty and students. He is shown (below) at the annual Honors Day convocation congratulating an award recipient.

Dean Puotinen and his wife Judith (also a teacher) are the parents of three daughters.

ACADEMIC NOTES

MIDDLE EAST STUDY

LRC was awarded a $24,000 grant by the federal government for a series of workshops on Middle Eastern cultures.

Education department chairman Dr. Clyde Taylor was project director of the workshops which began in late November. Some 50 public school teachers participated.

The workshops concerned the history, geography, society, culture, politics, economics and global implications of the Middle Eastern cultures of Egypt, Iran, Israel and Turkey.

LR GETS KENAN GRANT OF $200,000

The college was awarded a $200,00 Recognition Grant from the prestigious William R. Kenan, Jr. Charitable Trust.

College president Dr. Albert Anderson stated that initially the income from the grant would help support a proposed new orientation program developed in conjunction with the North Carolina Outward Bound School in Morganton.

Dr. Anderson noted, "The focus of the program will be to prepare students for successful learning and leadership by increasing their self-esteem and willingness to confront challenges physical, emotional and intellectual — in creative ways."

PROFS PUBLISH BOOKS

Three LR professors published books during the year. Dr. David Ludwig of the Psychology department, was the author of "The Spirit of Your Marriage," published by Augsburg Publishing House (Minneapolis). The book takes a look at the inner dynamics of the marriage relationship.

Academic Dean Dr. Arthur Puotinen authored a volume published by Arno Press (New York). Entitled "Finnish Radicals and Religion in Midwestern Mining Towns, 1865-1914," the book is in the Arno series on "Scandinavians in America." The book deals with the mining industry in the midwest, made possible by such investors as Rockefeller, Morgan, and others. Kermit Turner of the English department received excellent reviews for his first novel, "These Rebel Powers," published by Frederick Warne Co. (New York). The novel is the story of young people at a Southern seaside resort in the 1950's.

SEMINARY, SYNOD, LR JOINED FOR STUDY

In cooperation with the Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary and the N.C. Lutheran Synod, LR offered a continuing education course in October entitled "Reformation Pericopes in Perspective."

The course was a one-day, ten-hour study of those passages related to the Reformation. The Reformation was approached from several perspectives, including exegesis, preaching, education and counseling. Instructors were Dr. Michael McDaniel, Dr. Emmanuel Gitlin, Dr. Rufus Moretz, Dr. Arthur Puotinen, Dr. Larry Yoder, and Dr. Joseph Glass.

The course was offered on the LR campus and at St. John's Lutheran Church in Salisbury.

LR TO BEGIN MASTERS PROGRAM IN EDUCATION AREAS

After a long process of research and preparation by various members of the college faculty and staff, the LR Board of Trustees authorized the college to begin a program which would grant master of arts degrees.

It is expected that the master of arts degree would be conferred in early childhood education, middle school education and hearing-impaired education.

Dr. Arthur Puotinen, academic dean, anticipated that all requirements left to be met before the program could actually begin should be met by the summer of 1980. Dean Puotinen expressed his belief that there was an excellent market of students interested in a masters program; that the credentials of the LR faculty were solid; the budget was realistic; and that the library resources met minimum guidelines and would be upgraded.

When the program has begun, LR will admit students who hold baccalaureate degrees and "A" teaching certificates from accredited colleges. An undergraduated grade-point average of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale would be required. The degree would be awarded upon the successful completion of 30 hours of course work and a thesis or 36 hours of course work without a thesis.

Playmakers Told "Greatest Story" With Song, Wit

For its final production of the 1978-79 season, the Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers undertook a most ambitious project—the telling of “the greatest story ever told” with music and humor. The production was the popular musical, “Godspell”, based largely on the Gospel of St. Matthew.

Dr. Marion Love, the play’s director, chose to tell the story of Jesus by having each character portray a theatrical personality. John McNeil, who was the central figure of the Christ, was a stage carpenter; David Lewis, the stage manager, was John the Baptist; Willie Bacote, comic; Debbi Stottlemeyer, chorus girl; and Bobby Mauney, comic.

Also, Paulette Davis, vamp; Lori Wolford, child star; Cathy

Hawkins, novelty act; Mary Lee Null, dancer; Lyle Bradshaw, character actor; and Rudi Klix and Beverly Allen, mimes.

Cortland Raby, Jr. was the set designer and Suzanne Jeffers designed the costumes. Martha Applegate was assistant director and Jolie Jones and Macey Dance handled special effects.

“Godspell” proved a modern morality tale and the Playmakers did it well. Their music, with the talented combo that supported them, was spiritually uplifting and provided a fitting end to an excellent year of drama at Lenoir-Rhyne.

The P.E. Monroe Auditorium was ablaze with color and resounded to the sounds of some of Rogers and Hammerstein's most memorable music, as the Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers opened their 1979-80 season to the cadence of "The King and I."

Dr. Marion Love, the play's director, molded all component parts into a stunning whole. The play had a sheen that was enhanced by the technical skills of Cortland Raby, Jr., and the stunning costumes designed and constructed by Deborah Hall.

The orchestra was under the skillful direction of Dr. Ralph Gabriel and complemented the piano artistry of John Coffey.

The choreography once again displayed the talent of Dr. Jane Jenkins and the ballet sequence was beautifully composed and executed.

The role of the king was played by LR freshman James Browning, and the part of Anna by Music department professor Ms. Paula Boire. Both were superb in their interpretations of the ruler of Siam and the English schoolteacher who comes to be instructor to the royal children and the king's confidant as well. Ms. Boire's voice was an enchanting one, and at times it was difficult to remember that young Browning was a newcomer to the college stage.

The royal children were a polished troupe of local youngsters well trained by Mrs. Sylvia Hoffmire, artist-in-residence at LR for the year. They joined a very talented cast that included David Lewis (Lun Tha), Linda Powell (Tuptim), Celia Nolte (Lady Thiang), Mike Miller (Kralahome), Paul Milholland (Phra Alack), Keith Burton (Chululongkorn), David Hancock (Louis), Ellis Boatmon (Sir Edward Ramsey) Buzz Atwood (Captain Orton), Chase Boyer (attendant), and Tina Jeffers, Kathy Byerly, Debbi Stottlemeyer, Say Sink, Laurie Haener, Macey Dance, Jean-nine Cox as the royal wives, with Dana Cornett, Sara Moeller, Elizabeth Haslett, and Kathy Scherff as the royal Amazons. Performing in the ballet sequence were Barbara Sentman, Jeanan Glazier, Sherry Saunders, Majola Jones, Lyle Bradshaw, Martha Applegate, Florence Bowens, Gina Sain, Ruth Wagenknecht, and Judy Ward.

Audiences "Caught Up" In Majesty Of "The King And I"

Eternal Questions of War, Peace Posed in "Ceremony"

In its second production of the season, the Playmakers posed questions centuries-old: war versus peace and the challenge of national honor to national responsibility.

The play was Ronald Ribman's "The Ceremony of Innocence", and it proved a feast of magnificent language, stirring emotions, and moral puzzles. Directed by Dr. Ellis Boatmon, the play's beautiful costumes were designed by Deborah Hall, with a striking set by Cortland Raby, Jr.

In 1013, King Ethelred II, beautifully played by Clyde Ellis, was confronted with an invasion of England by the Danes. In an effort to give the country a breathing-spell, a truce was arranged by the Earl of Kent (James Browning) with Thulja, princess of Denmark (Pam Young), as a hostage to its fulfillment.

The hawks at Ethelred's court, led by the Earl of Sussex (Mike Miller) oppose the truce and proceed to break it. The king's son, Edmund (Jim Hinkledey), slays four Danes and is supported by his mother, Queen Emma (Liza Buckner) and the Bishop of London (Paul Milholland).

Eventually the cause of peace collapses, but not until the audience is forced to answer some painful questions as to the value of war and the necessity of violence. Also in the talented cast were Beth Davis, the Queen Mother Alfreda; Brian Davis, King Sweyn; Bill Stanley, Thorkill; Lyle Bradshaw, Abbot Oswald; and Marcus Rowe, Ray Clift, Steve Jones, and Jeff Wilson as monks.

Gina Sain was assistant director and stage manager; Sherryl Gravelle and Say Sink, light technicians; Becky Hoyle, prop mistress; and Jean Patterson, costume mistress.

"LuAnn" Evoked Memories of Small Town Life

With its third production of the 1979-80 drama season, LR's Playmakers continued to undertake ambitious assignments. This time Preston Jones' exposure of small-town life, "LuAnn Hampton Laverty Oberlander."

Part of the late Mr. Jones' Texas trilogy, "LuAnn" peels away the layers of Bradleyville, Texas (population: 6000) and shows life in the town through the eyes of LuAnn Hampton, expertly played by Gina Sain.

In the first act, LuAnn is a high school cheerleader in 1953, living with her mother Claudine (Tina Jeffers) and her brother Skip (Mike Miller) freshly home from the Korean War. Her main concern in life is a basketball player named Billy Bob Wortman (Paul Milholland) and his father's new Hudson Hornet.

In act two LuAnn is now a divorcee, having married and left Skip's warbuddy Dale Laverty (Stuart Simmons). LuAnn frequents a bar owned by hard-swearing Red Grover (Brian Davis), and there meets her second husband, Corky Oberlander (Paul Gossman). The bar is a social gathering place for Rufe Phelps (Scott Homesley), Olin Potts (Lyle Bradshaw), and Milo Crawford (Stephen Jones).

In act three, LuAnn is a widow, following Corky's death in his own truck. Her daughter Charmaine (Say Sink) cusses a great deal, Skip is an alcoholic, and her mother has had a stroke. It's 1973 and LuAnn works for the Howdy Wagon, having never left Bradleyville.

In many respects the play deals with very ordinary things. The language is peppered with Anglo-Saxon words. The characters do not have an abundance of either education or culture, but there is a certain warmth and feeling about Preston Jones' characters. They all appear to be someone you have met before. The cast did a fine job in conveying this warmth and concern.

The production was directed by Dr. Marion Love; the set was designed by Cortland Raby, Jr., and costumes were by Deborah Hall. Sheryl Gravelle was assistant director and stage manager; Barbara Klein was property mistress; and Jane Patterson served as wardrobe mistress.

SPRING WEEKEND FEATURED CONCERT, DANCE

"Spring Alive," Lenoir-Rhyne's 1979 version of Spring Weekend, provided activities of various types for the spring-fevered LR student. Under the direction of co-chairmen Beth Woolly and Mike Trice, the weekend began on April 19 with a return engagement of the Tau Kappa Epsilon "Blues Brothers" — an imitation of the popular singing group. The day ended with the well-received Faculty Follies and the movie, "Smokey and the Bandit" — both sponsored by Program Board.

April 20 featured the traditional golf tournament, "Opie's Open," held at Hampton Heights Golf Club. The event, named for former dean of students Mrs. Opal Moretz, was well attended. Then followed a dance and breakfast in the Cromer Center, the music being provided by "Windjammer."

The highlight of the Spring Weekend calendar came on Saturday with a bluegrass concert sponsored by Program Board at College Field. One of the bands for the evening was the popular "Cullowhee", which is pictured below.

The weekend ended with a chapel service on the campus with chaplain Larry Yoder delivering a message on the true meaning of "spring alive."

Conference On Media Featured Sydney Harris

The Lineberger Center for Cultural and Educational Renewal held its first annual conference on "Values in Society," on April 4, 1979. Sydney J. Harris and John Lukacs, noted lecturers, were special guests on the program.

Assisted by a grant from the North Carolina Humanities Committee and the National Endowment for Humanities, the LR conference had as its theme: "The Media Perspective."

The conference was attended by numerous members of the press, radio, and television industries. Professor Lukacs spoke on "Public Opinion and Popular Sentiment in an Era of Mass Communication." The panel response to Lukacs' remarks was led by Dr. Albert Anderson, Dr. Arthur Puotinen, and Dr. Grant Hammond, director of the Lineberger Center.

Dr. Kukacs came to the United States from Hungary in 1946. He has been a professor of history at Chestnut Hill and LaSalle Colleges since 1947. Author of some ten books, his titles include A History of the Cold War and The Passing of the Modern Age.

Mr. Harris delivered the main address at the evening banquet in the Cromer Center. Born in London, the noted author, teacher, and lecturer has been called "America's finest living aphorist." Author of a widely syndicated column, "Strictly Personal," he is also a former drama critic for the Chicago Daily News. Since 1946, Harris has been an instructor at the University of Chicago, and among his most recent works are: The Authentic Person, Winners and Losers, and The Best of Harris.

GRADUATION, 1979

The baccalaureate service was held at 10:30 a.m., May 6, 1979, in the P.E. Monroe auditorium.

Music was provided by Larry Lowder, organ, and T. J. Phillips, trumpet. The LR A Cappella Choir, under the direction of E. Ray McNeely, Jr., rendered the morning anthem.

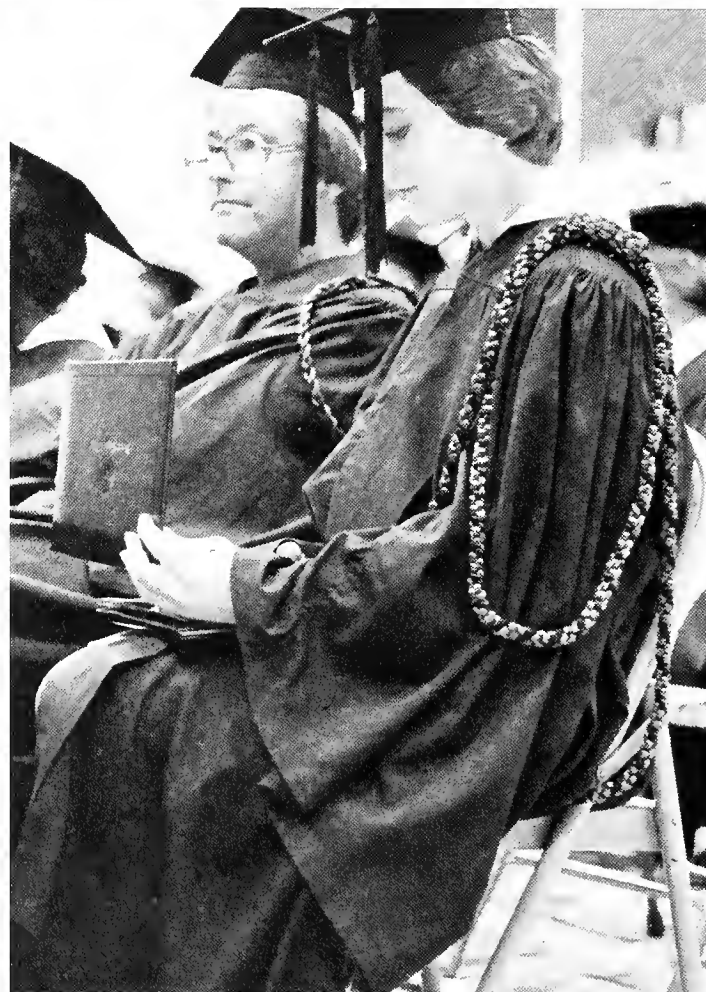

The Reverend Dr. James R. Crumley (right), president of the Lutheran Church in America, delivered the sermon, "Living Toward the Future." Dr. Crumley based his remarks on Jesus' words, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life," and told the graduates they would live in a shrinking world where the claims of Christ "ring true" now more than ever.

Graduation exercises were held at 3:30 p.m. in the Shuford Memorial Gymnasium (opposite top). The processional was played by the Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Ralph Gabriel, with the Reverend Ernest Misenheimer, president of the N.C. Synod of the LCA, offering the Scripture and prayer.

James R. Peterson (opposite bottom left), executive vice president of the R. J. Reynold Industries (Winston-Salem) delivered the main address, entitled "Tomorrow's Opportunity: 'Me or We'". Mr. Peterson challenged the graduating class by telling them they were more informed than any previous generation in history to deal with the world's problems.

Cheryl Tilley and Miriam Adderholdt (below left) were recognized as first honor graduates, each with a perfect 4.00 g.p.a.

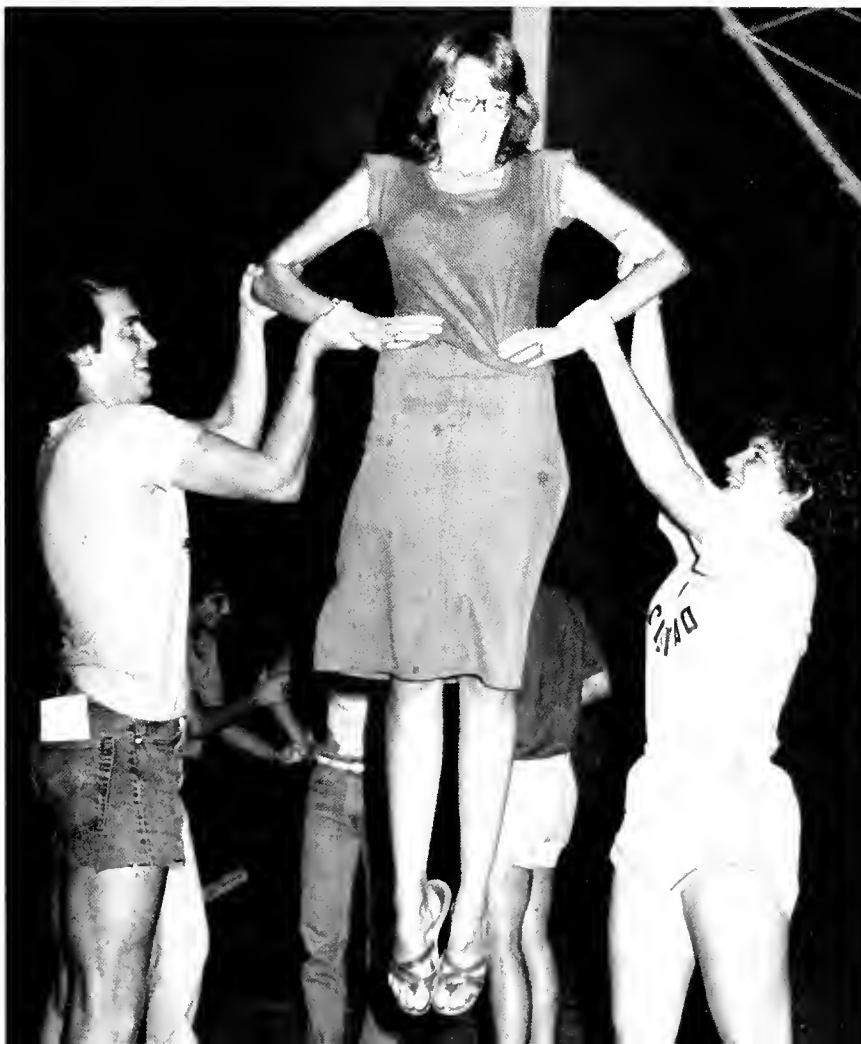

Honorary degrees were conferred by the college on Louis Almen, James Robert Crumley, Ernest Long, and Maud Powlas.

PROLOGUE '79
EMPHASIZES
"PERSONAL APPROACH"

The opening of the 1979-80 school year was probably the smoothest ever with the possible exception of the fall registration, which proved a "nightmare" for everyone. It was the one flaw in an otherwise "perfect" beginning of the academic year.

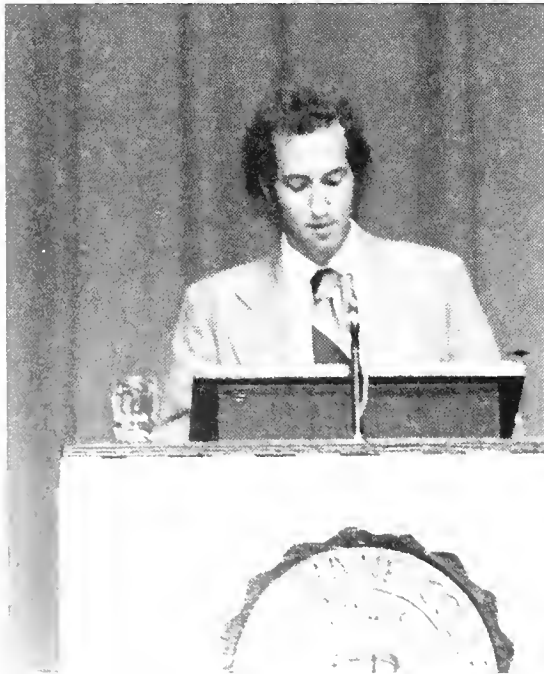

While still stressing the academic side, Prologue more strongly emphasized the importance of fitting-in to Lenoir-Rhyne's community of learning. Adjustment was the key to the 1979 Prologue program.

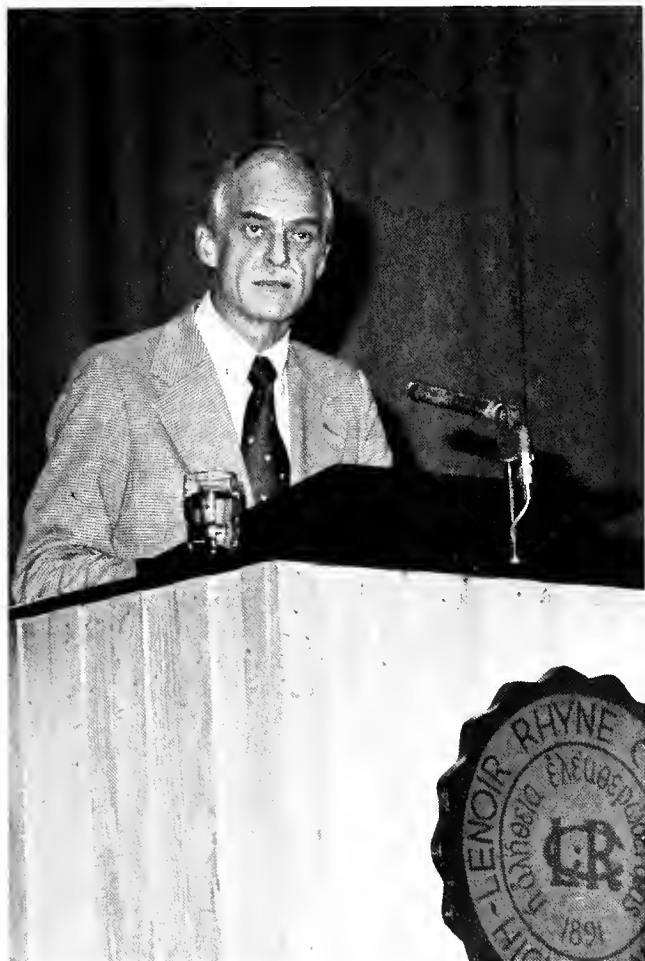

Activities ranged from moving in to getting the more personal side of professors and staff. Playfair, a professional program geared to introducing people to each other quickly, was used for the first time. There followed a picnic sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the president's opening convocation remarks, and finally classes.

Everything considered, the 1979 Prologue successfully accomplished its goal — to get the freshman class into the student body as quickly as possible with as little "pain" as possible.

Hard Work, Generosity Met In Shuford Dedication

The generosity of the late A. Alex Shuford, Jr., and that of many contributors after him, met with the hard work of campus and community to make possible the dedication of the Shuford Physical Education Center on September 29, 1979.

Mr. Shuford had made a bequest of $500,000 in his will to Lenoir-Rhyne in the form of a challenge grant for the construction of "the extension, enlargement and improvement of Shuford Gymnasium and other recreational facilities of the College." This put in motion the beginning of a dream long held at LR — a spacious, new P.E. Complex. A challenge campaign was launched, chaired by Mr. O. Leonard Moretz, which raised $600,000 in gifts and pledges within six months.

The demands of an inflationary economy drove the building price up to almost $2,000,000. The shortfall would be raised by the Greater Catawba Valley and Alumni campaign, chaired by Mr. Charles D. Dixon.

The dedication ceremony was held in Monroe Auditorium and at the Shuford Complex site. Mrs. Margie Shuford Owsley, daughter of the late Mr. Shuford, presented the key to the new building to Dr. Albert Anderson, LR president.

The Shuford Center's gymnasium would be named in memory of Mr. Owen Leonard Moretz; the Piedmont Education Foundation Board Room, in memory of Mr. Harry Snyder, Sr. and Mr. Harry Snyder, Jr.; the multi-purpose room, in honor of R. M. "Pat" Shores, former LR coach; and gifts would be given to the new building from Mr. and Mrs. Russell Helderman (the Exercise Physiology Laboratory); Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Little (the office suite of the P.E. department chairman); and Ms. Lois DeOrsey Snyder (the office suite of the Executive Director of the Piedmont Foundation).

For a pictorial essay on the new building, see pages 150-155.

Ehrlich, Expert On Population, Spoke On Oct. 16

Dr. Paul Ehrlich, Bing Professor of Population Studies, Department of Biological Sciences at Stanford University, was the Hickory Chair guest lecturer on October 16, 1979.

Dr. Ehrlich is widely known for his analysis of population patterns, the future of affluence, and general ecology. His topic at LR was "The Golden Door: Immigration, Resource Consumption, and the American Future." Many of his views have had wide public exposure through his appearance on the "Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson.

Among his works are included The Population Bomb, Ark II: A Social Response to Environmental Imperatives, and The End of Affluence: A Blueprint for Your Future.

Broyhill Institute Established; Inaugural Oct. 26

The Broyhill Foundation has donated $100,000 to Lenoir-Rhyne for the establishment of a business institute. William E. Stevens, executive vice president of Broyhill Industries in Lenoir, represented Board Chairman Paul H. Broyhill, in making the presentation.

The institute would encourage greater understanding of the American economic system, develop the leadership skills of business persons, and stimulate values-centered study of business leadership and economic issues.

The LR foundation would be administered by William M. Mauney, associate professor and current chairman of the college's social sciences department. Mauney commented, "The college is concerned with describing the social, political and economic system, but businessmen are concerned with the well-being of the economy. It is a pooling of talents."

October 26 marked the inaugural of the Broyhill Institute on the LR campus. It was an event that brought the college and business communities together for an exchange of ideas. A morning convocation and several afternoon seminars highlighted the day.

Mr. Petro Kulynch, Managing Director of Lowe's Companies, Inc. was the featured convocation speaker. The workshops-seminars featured a host of business talent, including Philip Yount (Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan Association, Hickory), Malcolm Cloer (Leathercraft, Conover), William Stevens (Broyhill Industries, Lenoir), Ray Lackey (Lackey Enterprises, Statesville), Richard Maxey (First Citizens Bank and Trust, Winston-Salem), Mildred Thomas (Camera World, Burlington), John Ellington (State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh), John Geer (Duke Power, Conover), William Melton (IBM, Hickory), Vivienne Stafford (Hickory City Schools), and John Redmand (N.C. Council for Economic Education, Greensboro.).

Strategy For Seventies Nets Over $12 Million

Lenoir-Rhyne's decade-long "Strategy for the Seventies," which officially ended the last day of 1979, topped its $12 million fund-raising goal. According to the college's development office, the Strategy total stood at $12,051,098. That figure did not include capital campaign funds expected through congregations in the North Carolina Lutheran Synod and other sources.

The Successful completion of LR's Strategy placed it in select company among North Carolina's more than fifty colleges and universities. Only Davidson and Duke also raised more than $12 million during the 1970's.

LR president Dr. Albert Anderson stated, "We are very happy to have reached the Strategy goal, not only in terms of the achievement which it represents, but also because of what it means for Lenoir-Rhyne's programs and facilities. In addition, we are profoundly grateful for the support of area businesses and industries, as well as that of thousands of Lutherans, alumni, and friends throughout this vital program."

Dr. Paul Kercher, LR Director of development, noted that a number of gifts pushed the Strategy over the top in the closing weeks of 1979, among them a gift from Mrs. Helen Moretz of Hickory, a contribution from Superior Cable Corporation Foundation of Hickory, and two parcels of land donated by Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Wertz, Jr. of Atlantic Beach.

The Strategy program has been responsible for significant improvements in LR's programs and facilities, including an increased endowment from $2 million to over $5 million, the construction of the Shuford Physical Education Center, the establishment of several new majors, the expansion of library holdings to over 100,000 volumes and a steady increase in faculty salaries to the national average.

Mr. David Hoyle, chairman of the LR Board of Trustees, noted that the successful completion of the Strategy drive "has enabled the college to meet virtually all the goals set ten years ago and places it in a strong position for the '80's."

Frosh Whiz Kids Captured College Bowl Title

The Whiz Kids, sponsored by the freshman class, captured the 1980 Lenoir-Rhyne College Bowl championship in an exciting game played on March 12. The Whiz Kids defeated the Gentiles, sponsored by the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, before a large and appreciative audience in the Cromer Center lobby.

The annual College Bowl stressed quick recall-of-fact rather than I.Q. and posed questions for the two teams that covered many areas of interest and knowledge.

tiles), Julie Morris (Governors), Clyde Ellis (Existentialists), Robert Calvert (Whiz Kids), Les Sigman (Choir), and Wilson Freeman (Existentialists).

Also, Chris Barry (Whiz Kids), George Rodman (Governors), Regina Bryant (Circle K), Ron Mavrides (La Brea Men), Libby Toler (Gentiles), Brian Davis (Existentialists), and John Shuford (Whiz Kids). Davis was named most valuable player on a nonfinalist team.

Designated as the best-balanced team in the Bowl was the Governors and the Existentialists was named the third-place team.

John Blakley served as director of the 1980 College Bowl, with Jeanne Oettl, Todd Arey, and Paul Milholland serving as assistant directors. Dr. Ellis Boatmon, professor of history, was moderator.

Eleven Inducted In Sports Hall of Fame

Eleven of Lenoir-Rhyne College's greatest athletes have been enshrined to date in the college's Sports Hall of Fame.

Established by the LR Board of Trustees in 1976, the Sports Hall of Fame is designed to recognize and perpetuate the note worthy athletic tradition of Lenoir-Rhyne College by honoring and memorializing individuals who have made extraordinary contributions to this tradition.

The inductees are chosen by a seven-member selection committee and are indicated by the handsome placques (see below) on display in the lobby of the Shuford P.E. building on the college campus.

The first inductees, in 1977, were H.C. "Joby" Hawn, Albert Spurlock, Raeford Wells, and Clarence Stasavich. Mr. Hawn, who graduated in 1926, played three sports and went on to become a professional baseball player. Mr. Spurlock was one of the most versatile athletes in the history of the college, playing four sports prior to his graduation in 1927. Mr. Wells is considered the finest all-around basketball player in LR history. He graduated in 1957, having scored 2,627 points. Mr. Stasavich was both player and coach at Lenoir-Rhyne. He graduated in 1935 and returned to his Alma Mater in 1938 as a coach, numbering among his teams the national champs of 1960. The 1978 inductees were Lloyd Little, Arden Ray, and Harold Bullard. Mr. Little, a graduate in 1933, was in three sports and later went on to an outstanding career as a semi-pro baseball player and coach. Mr. Ray played on the legendary Stasavich teams, graduated in 1956, and became an outstanding high school coach. Mr. Bullard was an All-American football player who still holds the LR record for most points (30) and most touchdowns (5) in a single game. Bullard graduated in 1958.

The most recent inductees, in 1979, were F.D. "Jack" Kiser, Klynt Ripple, Frank Barger, Sr., and Edward Joyner. Mr. Kiser graduated in 1930, played three sports, and became an outstanding women's basketball coach. Mr. Ripple, graduate in 1940, was MVP in football as a senior and later made distinguished contributions to the Piedmont Educational Foundation. Mr. Barger was a two-sport letterman, he graduated in 1948, and became one of the most successful high school football coaches in North Carolina. Mr. Joyner, a graduate in 1968, was one of the finest defensive football players in LR history, twice being named All-American.

Baseball Bears — "So Very Close!"

Continuing to show marked improvement under third-year coach Billy Alton, the 1979 baseball team came within a whisker of qualifying for the NAIA District 26 playoffs. Although the Bears had a 13-22 overall record, when it came down to district play they performed at their best. LR's 11-9 district record left them only five percentage points from a playoff berth.

After dropping their first five games, the diamond men broke into the win column with a pair of district victories over Mars Hill. LR continued to play tough against district foes, and early in the season had a share of first place. The Bears then proceeded to drop two straight district games, but bounced back to complete four in a row by defeating Warren Wilson and St. Augustine in doubleheaders. They took a 9-5 district record into the latter half of the season.

A split with Gardner-Webb gave the Bears more overall and district wins than they had amassed the previous season. With an 11-7 record, the Bears entered the last district game of the season against Elon, facing a do-or-die situation. The Christians swept a doubleheader and crushed all Bear hopes for making the playoffs.

At one point in the season, the Bears' Chuck McLaughlin was selected NAIA District 26 player of the week. McLaughlin batted .600 with 12 hits in 20 plate appearances, scored five runs, drove in six, and had a pair of doubles and triples to earn the honor. LR also scored a triumph over NCAA Division I competitor, East Tennessee State Univ.

The Bears' pitching staff combined for a respectable 3.82 earned run average over the season. The hitters had a combined team batting average of .283, which included three players who batted over .300. Jeff Flowe led the team in batting and subsequently was named the most valuable player of the season.

The Lenoir-Rhyne College varsity golf team had an excellent 9-1 season under Head Coach Hanley Painter.

The Bear golf men finished with a 9-1 tally, including a seventh-place finish at the District 26, NAIA tournament, held at Duke University Golf Course; and a third-place win at the Pfeiffer Invitation Golf Tournament at Stanley County Country Club, near Albemarle, North Carolina.

Bears Had Disappointing 5-5 Season; Huss Resigned; Vansant Named New Head Coach

In a period of three weeks, Lenoir-Rhyne lost its final football game to a lackluster Catawba team, saw head coach Jack Huss resign after six years at the helm, and named Henry Vansant of James Madison University to succeed him. Behind this lay a disappointing 5-5 season for Bear football fans.

Friends of LR football had high hopes when the 1979 season began. In the opener with J.C. Smith, the Bears obtained a 33-8 win. And yet LR had gone into the fray without talented fullback Kevin Johnson, who was ruled ineligible for the season due to NAIA rules regarding exam requirements. Johnson's absence would become a loss the Bears never really overcame, and it would be mid-season before Huss found a satisfactory replacement in freshman Tony Smith.

A 13-10 win over Wofford followed, when quarterback Craig Corbett put a 32-yard bullet down the middle to freshman split end Steve Fleming with 37 seconds left in the game. Then a powerful Blue Hose team ripped the Bears, 28-14. But this was a P.C. squad that went on to national playoffs. The next week LR lost both its momentum and the game. Despite a strong first half, the Bears fell flat, made mistakes aplenty, and lost to Newberry, 14-13.

Visiting at Gardner-Webb, LR bounced back and looked flashy in doing so. The 28-19 win was highlighted by a 91-yard SAC-8 record-breaking run by Qb Craig Corbett for the clinching TD. Coach Huss felt confident enough to say, "Tonight is a starting point. We put it all together."

In its Homecoming game with a much-improved Liberty Baptist, the Bears held back the Flames to win 26-21 and then faced a week off as they prepared for the Western Carolina Catamounts. But Western proved too much for LR and the Cats whipped the Bears badly, 42-6. The next weekend was another miserable road trip, the Bears dropping a 30-0 decision to Carson Newman.

In its game with Elon, LR pulled out a squeaker, 10-7, and did so on the toe of kicker Steve Crittenden with time expired on the clock. Elon led 7-0 when Qb Jeff Flowe hit flanker Don Kirkpatrick with a toss to tie the game. Then safety Gus Parson recovered a fumble late in the game and LR pushed to the Elon 11. Steve Crittenden tried a 28-yard field goal with 11 seconds left. It was too wide to the right.

Elon would have time for one more play. In desperation the Christians threw deep into LR territory and safety Jeff Lindsey picked off the pass. On the runback he pulled a couple of Elon players with him when an official's flag fell. A personal foul was charged against Elon and the game could not end on a defensive penalty. The foul helped move the ball to the Elon 38 where the Bears now tried another field goal. Crittenden was on target and LR took the win.

The season ended in Hickory with a 13-0 loss to Catawba. The spirit that had abounded at Elon had not carried over. Disgruntled fans filed out of the stadium. Shortly thereafter, Coach Huss resigned, citing it "in the best interest of Lenoir-Rhyne football." College president Dr. Albert Anderson praised Huss' character and dedication to LR. Within a few days, Henry Vansant was appointed head coach, and all LR football backers looked forward to coming seasons with high expectations.

LR Volleyball: Big Wins, "Some Disappointments"

When it was all over and the last ball had been set and the last spike put down, the 1979 volleyball team will be remembered as a cohesive "family unit," and the season one of scattered "big" wins and some "disappointments."

The Lady Bears began with strength, capturing five of their first seven matches, which included wins over Wingate, Gardner-Webb, and Mars Hill. But as the season progressed, the Lady Bears developed a "split personality." At the midway point of the season the spikers split four out of five matches and three in a row. And it was at mid-point there came the most physically and emotionally-draining match of the year. LR hosted Wake Forest and Appalachian. After the dust cleared four hours later, LR had managed only a split. They had defeated the Deacons but lost the final two games and the match to ASU. Head Coach Pat Smith was calling the season one "highlighted by disappointments."

Other seasonal highlights were: at the College of Charleston Round Robin tournament, LR appeared to have tied for second place only to later learn they were dropped to third . . . the female spikers defeated North Carolina in one game, but ended up dropping the match to the Tar Heels . . . the volleyballers defeated nemesis Western Carolina three times but also dropped two . . . with the ultimate disappointment coming in the final home match with 1978 NCAA Division II champ High Point. The Lady Bears demolished their opponent in the first game 15-0, but couldn't quite capture either of the next two games.

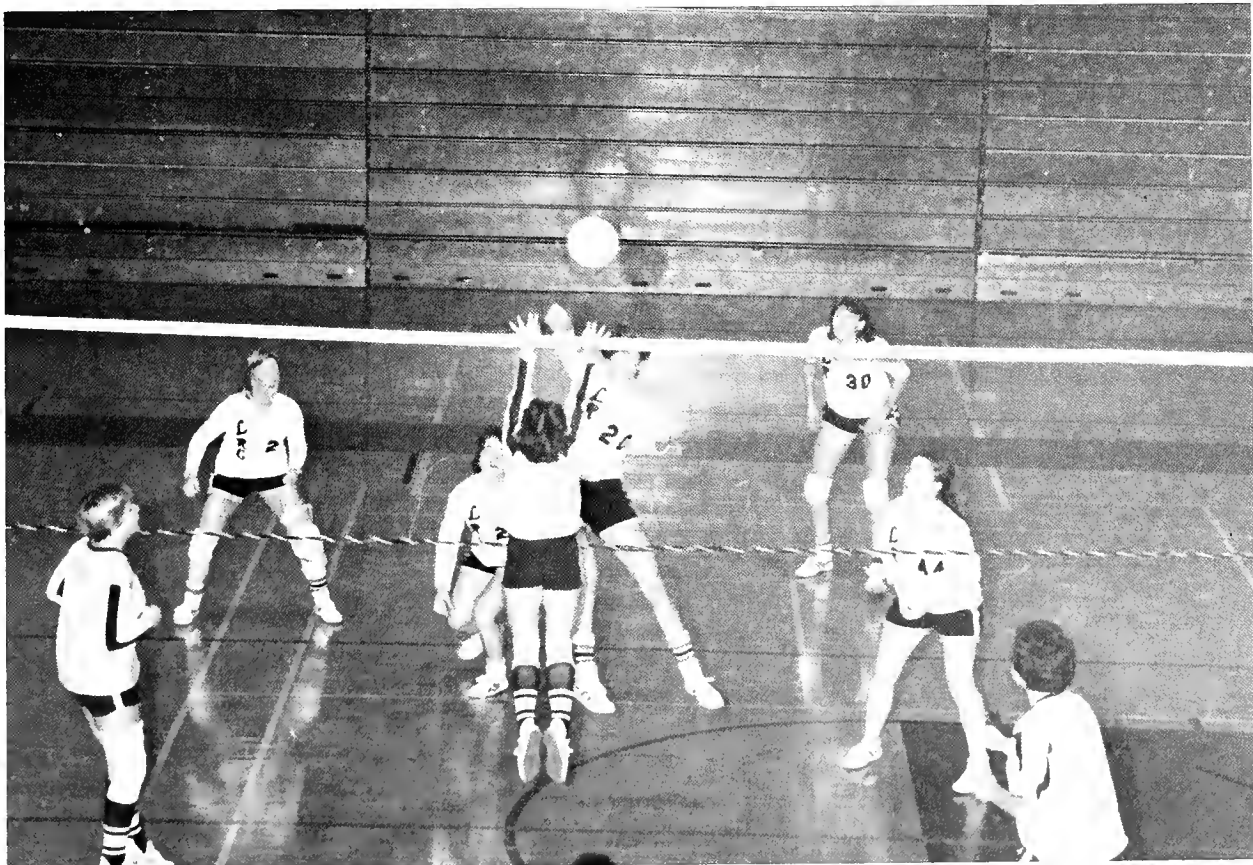

LR went into the state tournament seeded eighth. By defeating teams such as Western Carolina, Mars Hill, and N.C. Central, the Lady Bears ended up tied for fifth place with High Point.

Club Team Takes Title

The Lenoir-Rhyne College Hornets club football team had an outstanding season, climaxed by the winning of the State Championship of the club football association.

In the first round of playoffs, the Hornets defeated UNC-Wilmington, 33-6, and for the state title whipped Appalachian's club team, 14-0. Afterward they won the Coal Bowl by easing past Wise County, 5-3.

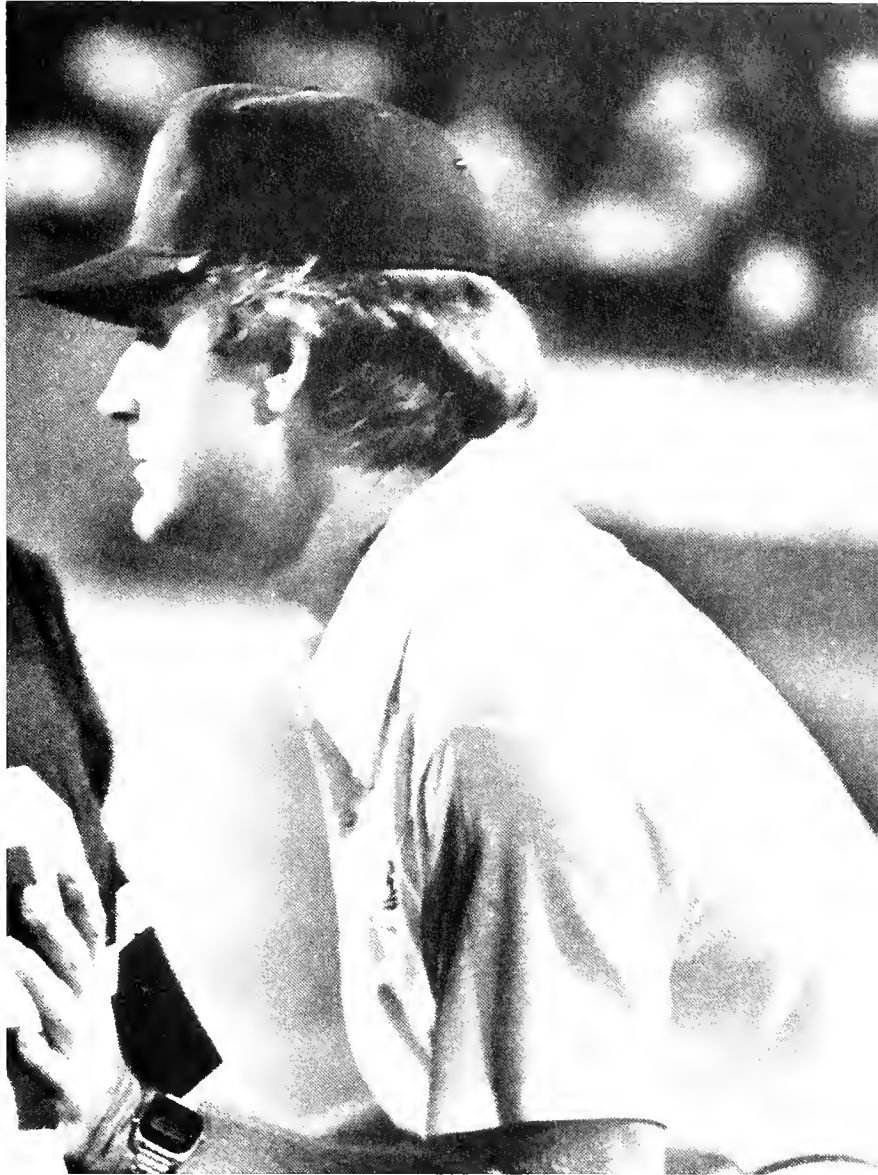

The heart of the Hornets' team was captain and coach Donnie Kiefer (shown at right). In addition to the management of the squad Kiefer also played at the fullback slot.

Our Gang

Pat Smith Led Lady Bears To National Rank

This has been a season of great things for the 1979-80 edition of the Lady Bears basketball team. As of yearbook press time, the women's cage record was 19-1, they were ranked first in Division II state ratings, and were ninth in the nation in overall division status.

The Lady Bears have virtually dominated every team they've played with Erskine handing the female Bears the only setback they had suffered, this being an 86-66 decision in the Francis Marion tournament in Florence, S. C.

How do you describe a team that has compiled such a record? Well, it is an unselfish team that has total unity, they have an abundance of very talented players, and they have an extremely talented coach in Pat Smith.

Coach Smith has developed a young team into an exciting, explosive scoring machine. Molded around the leadership of senior Sally Reid, the Bears were constantly outclassing their opponents and trouncing them by 20 or more points per game. A good example of this was the 109-50 "massacre" of Catawba, setting a new school scoring record in the process.

There are but two seniors on the squad. Sally Reid is probably the top women's basketball player in the history of the school. She has been the most valuable player two consecutive years. Point guard Christy Jones has likewise been a sparkplug for the squad and will be missed.

But a lot of super talent remains: Donna Elrod, Brenda Hairston, and Natalie Critchley join newcomers Mary Loree and high school All-American Marisa Carmody.

Pat Smith has put women's basketball at LR on the map and this has been, for our Lady Bears, a season to be long remembered.

With Experience Bears Face Strong Future

The Lenoir-Rhyne men's varsity basketball team had an up-and-down season as of February 2, the yearbook press date. The Bears held on the 2nd an 8-12 record.

Although it was a rocky season for second-year head coach Neil Hodges, he had reason to be optimistic. The cagers were young and at times their inexperience was evident. One of the best examples of this came early in the season against Division I opponent Appalachian. With 2:50 to go, LR was leading 45-40 when the Bears took too long to get the ball over half-court and lost an important jump ball. This seemed to deflate the Bears' spirit and they dropped a 47-45 verdict to ASU.

Then again, there were times when the Bears overcame their inexperience. Against Elon, LR was behind almost the entire game. Then Coach Hodges inserted sharpshooter Robert Hutson into the lineup. Only a freshman, Hutson proceeded to can a couple of long jumpers to bring the Bears closer. Then with one second left he canned a twenty-footer to give LR a 59-57 victory over the Christians. Other key wins for the Bears over the season were wins to top Gardner-Webb and Mars Hill, both of whom were ranked in the top ten in District 26.

As of press time, the biggest win for the Bears came against nationally-ranked High Point. The Panthers were 14th in the nation in the NAIA poll and came to Shuford Gym in anticipation of an easy win over LR. They found more than they had bargained for. The scoring of Jackie McNeill and Gary Nobles and the great all-around play of Zack Owens made the difference.

The Bear cagers took an 8-point lead over High Point into the dressing room at halftime. As the second half began the roundballers caught fire and played what was probably their best basketball to date. They built up a 22-point lead with 8:24 remaining. Then inexperience took over and High Point whittled the lead to a mere five points with 1:30 to play. Then Hodges' troops regained their poise and held on to upset the Panthers, 85-80.

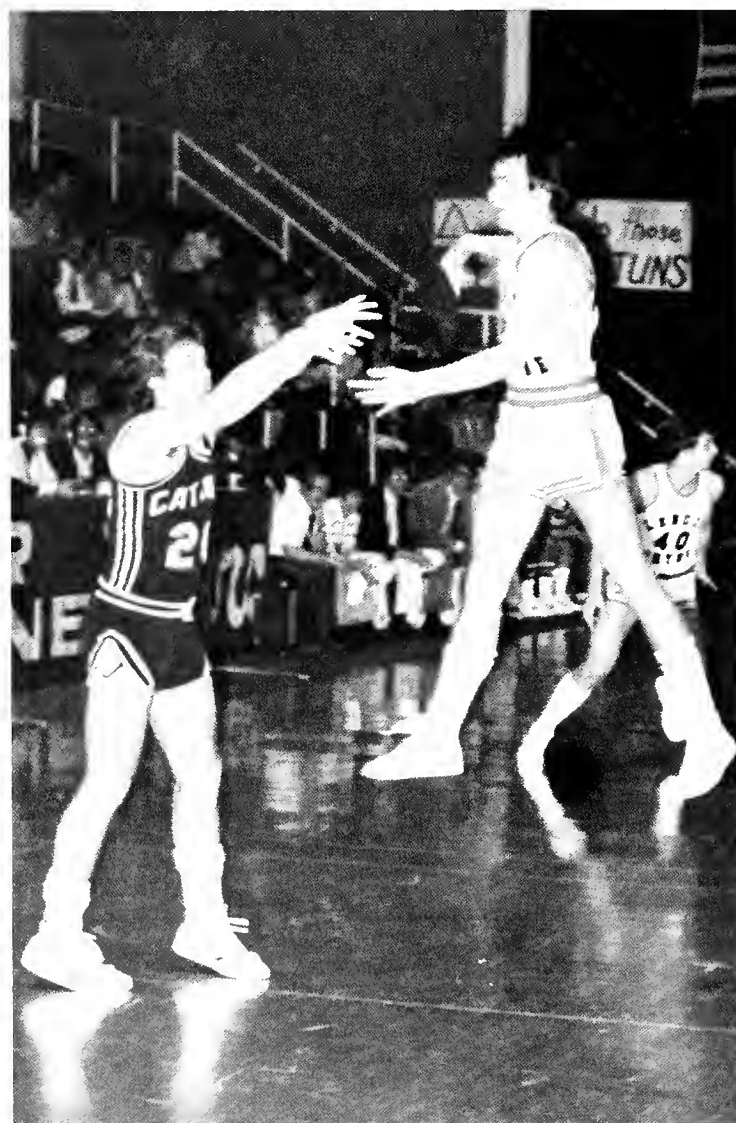

LR basketball has a bright future. With only two seniors graduating, the Bears will be a contender to reckon with in the next season.

Shuford P.E. Complex — “A Dream Come True”

The Shuford Physical Education Center is extraordinary in sight and design. It provides a wonderful possibility for the achievement of physical and academic goals. Its functions are timely for the growing college community. The 42,681-square-foot facility means more access to fitness and recreational opportunities for Lenoir-Rhyne students and area-citizens.

This pictorial essay expresses the excitement everyone feels at having so splendid a structure on our campus. It is indeed a long-hoped-for “dream come true.”

One of the most striking features of the new building is the swimming pool, which measures 75x45 feet. Very useful for swim meets, it includes a retractable balcony that seats 525 people.

The Shuford Physical Center's gymnasium is named in memory of Owen Leonard Moretz. Used for student recreation as well as intramurals, the facility is accessible for everyone.

One of the most serviceable areas of the building is the R.M. "Pat" Shores multi-purpose room. As its name indicates the room is earmarked for many activities associated with campus and community, such as the annual Red Cross blood drive (above). The dance-instruction room is a delightful addition to the campus. Equipped with wall-mirrors and hand-rail (below), it affords students an excellent opportunity to learn and improve their dancing skills.

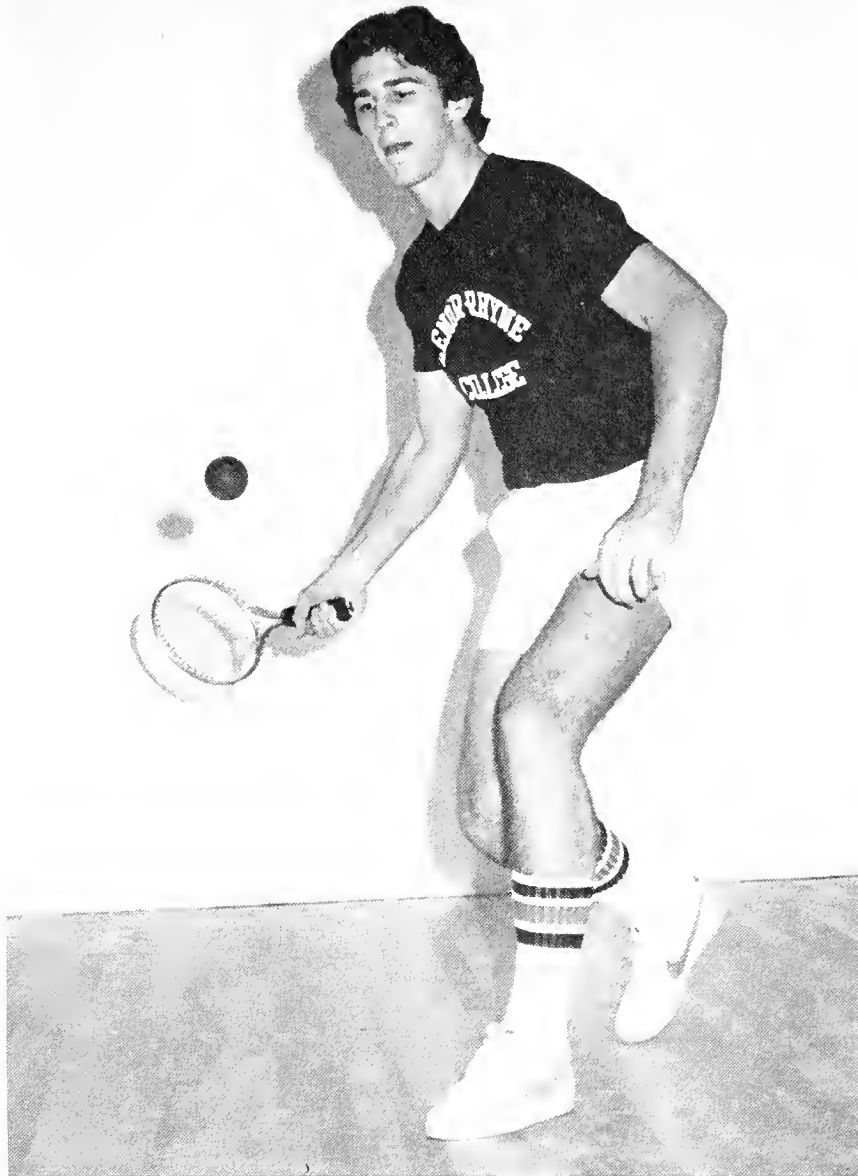

Lockers (above left) are available for over 700 men and women, and one of the highlights of the facility is the sauna room (above right). The building is also headquarters for the Piedmont Educational Foundation, which supports LR athletics. In addition to offices, the Foundation also maintains a reception area (below) completely equipped with a modern serving-kitchen.

The new building contains two handball-racquetball courts, which are among the most widely used facilities of the Complex. Lori Linser (bottom) and Michael Simpson (right) take advantage of the courts for a session.

Softball

Few activities at LR inspire more enthusiasm and participation than intramurals, and the college has a full and rewarding intramural slate. The 1979 softball champs were the TKE Sugarbears and the Kappa Delta Bombers.

Volleyball

The volleyball season came to a close with the Kappa Delta Bombers capturing the women's title as they defeated TKB. The score in the championship clash was 3-15, 15-2, 15-2. In the men's championship game, the Who team was the winner, defeating the TKE Sugarbears, 10-15, 15-13, 15-6.

TKB defeated the KD Bombers, 19-12 to claim the women's flag football championship. The champs were led by Tee Nixon's three touchdowns and a tough defensive unit.

The Blazers trounced the Bullets, 61-21, to capture the men's flag football title. The win gave the Blazers an unblemished 6-0 record. Offensively the Blazers combined for 433 yards, compared to the Bullets' 224 yards. The Blazers held the edge in passing yardage, 316 to 209, and in the rushing department the Blazers piled up an impressive 117 yards to the Bullets' 15 yards.

Swimming

Lenoir-Rhyne's first intramural swimming meet was held before the Christmas-break. In the women's division, both TKB and the Nutty Buddies tied for the title, with each scoring 21 points in the meet. The Nutty Buddies, who won a coin-toss, will wear the championship T-shirts. Nancy Nicholson was the star of the meet, taking first place in the 50-meter backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly. She also led the pack in the 200-meter freestyle relay.

Baker's Buoys took the men's title by placing first in all the events, save one. Dave Ferrell and Bill Peed led the Buoys, who had 29 ½ points more than their competitor, the Outcasts. Dan Warner of the Outcasts took the 50-meter breaststroke.

Football

Soccer

The Outcasts and the Nutty Buddies won the year's intramural soccer championships. The Outcasts went through the season undefeated to top the men's division. The champs led in offensive power, averaging over 7.4 goals per game. They also had the top defensive unit, allowing just 1.4 goals per game.

The Nutty Buddies captured the women's championship via winning the post season tournament. Going into the tournament the Buddies had a 2-2 record. They reeled off three straight wins, including a 3-0 victory over previously undefeated Jenn's Jockettes in the championship title-match.

GREEK AWARDS, 1979

SPE Mark Hyde (right) and Sigma Kappa Virginia Minshaw (opposite top) were named Fraternity Man of the Year and Sorority Woman of the Year at the 13th annual Greek Awards ceremony, held on April 21 in the Cromer Center dining area.

Some 350 people were present for the most gala night of the year for the college's Greeks, as recognition was paid in a host of areas.

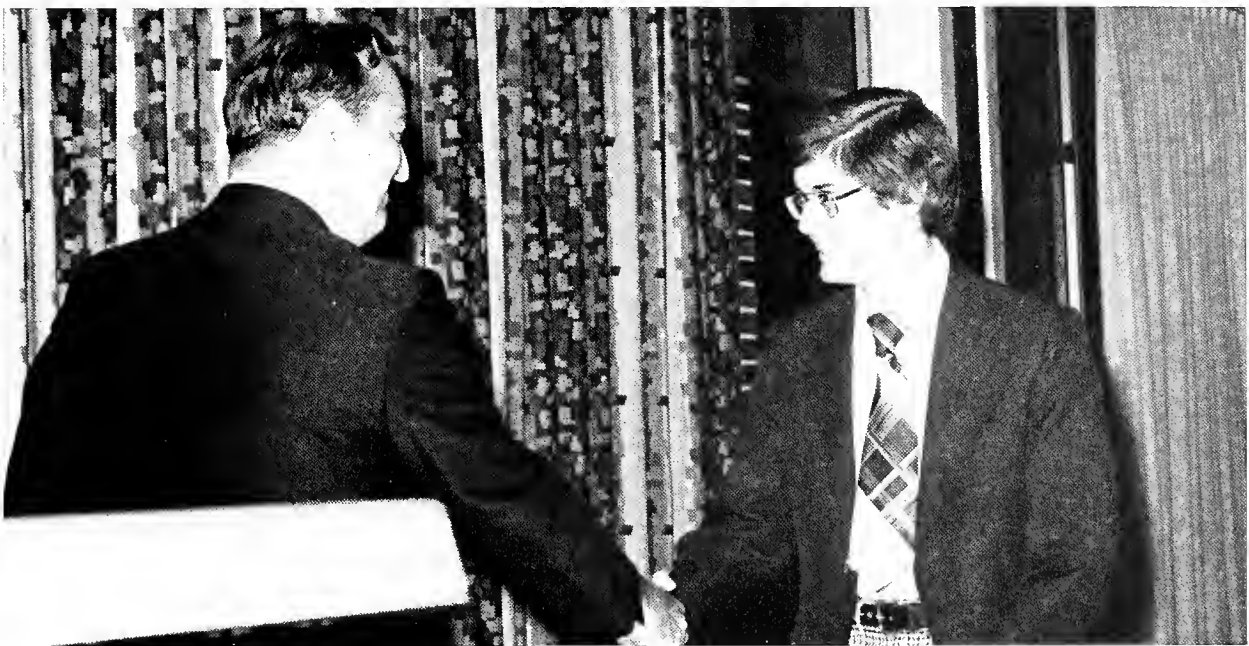

Dr. Ellis Boatmon, founder of the awards gathering in 1966, served as master of ceremonies; Mike Riley offered the invocation; and DZ Tami Triplett and TKE Mike McLendon brought greetings from Panhellenic and IFC. Then, Zeta Tau Alpha sorority (opposite bottom) offered a beautiful musical tribute to the talented Walt Disney.

Theta Chi's Todd Arey and ZTA's Joyce Ham received the leadership gavels, TKE Mike Shepperd and DZ Laurie Jenkins (bottom right) were named the year's outstanding pledges, and Theta Chi's Bobby Mauney and DZ's Cindy Stonesifer coped the sophomore awards.

Jane Harris (KD) and Robert Arey (Theta Chi) were named the year's leading juniors; Brad Lawing (TKE) received the Corelli Memorial Award in athletics; and Cindy Drury (KD) was named recipient of the Spirit Within Award.

At intermission the Almost-Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon entertained with an original composition and were well received. Then, Fred Meuter (Theta Chi) and Becky Langfitt (ZTA) received the Senior Awards; DZ Chris Shogren was named to the Boatmon Greek Award for community service; and Theta Xi David Troutman (opposite center) received the McDaniel Award for citizenship. A host of Greeks received awards for achievement in many areas, including SPE David Lewis (bottom left), seen receiving a special award for excellence in theatre.

Best All-Around Seniors

JANE HARRIS

DAVID PRUETT

Each year the senior class chooses two of its members, in a class-wide vote, as Best All-Around. For 1980, the senior class selected Miss Jane Harris and Mr. David Pruett.

Miss Harris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Harris of Thomasville, N.C. She is a physical education major, a member of Kappa Delta sorority, and has served as an SGA officer as well as a member of the women's basketball team.

Mr. Pruett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary F. Pruett of Mt. Airy, N.C. He is a music education major, a member of Theta Chi fraternity, has served as editor of the 1980 HACAWA, and was student director of the 1979 Prologue. He is also a member of the A Capella Choir.

Miss Delores Rorrer
Senior Class President

Congratulations.

If you are a Senior graduating from college this year you have

- been around the sun 22 times
- spent 17 years in school systems
- or 153 months
- or 4,590 days in class (counting off for weekends, holidays, summer and hookey)
- or close to 50,000 hours studying (counting homework, field trips, and cramming for tests)
- or approximately one-third of your waking life studying
- which is roughly 2,080 times longer than it took God to create the world from scratch.

Go thou and do likewise.

When I undertook the task of the 1980 HACAWA, I searched for a theme to tie together not only the yearbook, but essentially Lenoir-Rhyne. Struggling against clichés, we took a glimpse back at our college heritage and a look into the future, but the bulk of the book deals with the present, and rightfully so. The ironic thing is that the present is now the past and this book holds only memories that hopefully shed light on a great future for a great institution.

There are several people to whom I owe my thanks. First of all to my staff: Denise Powell, Pat Porter, and Mike Trice — they were always there at my request. A special thanks must go to Kelly Land who can take credit for a large portion of the book through his work on the sports section. Along with him, thanks to Jeff Jones for his talent and creativity in the area of sports-copy. Finally, a thanks to Dr. Ellis Boatmon. Without "Doc" I would not have been able to complete the HACAWA for it is too great a task for a sole editor.

The HACAWA has indeed been fortunate to have had the services of very talented photographers. For two years our director of photography has been Robert Arey. Much of the credit for the success of this year's HACAWA belongs to Robert. He has exhibited skill combined with patience to give us picture-after-picture of high quality whenever we needed it. We will miss not only his talent but his delightful personality which we have enjoyed so much over the years.

Robert's capable sidekick, John Love, has also been a mainstay of our staff. He is a most talented lensman who has worked long hours to give us a superior yearbook. We are likewise grateful to other photographers who have shared their work with us: Jean Henry, professional cameraman Stuart Clark; Cortland Raby, Jr.; Scott Kosfeld; Steve Semmler; FOCUS photographer Michael Andrews; and professional cameraman Frank Miller, who over the years has enriched the HACAWA with many of his finest pictures. Mr. Miller's artistry with the camera is seen most often in our sports pages and has given the HACAWA the finest athletic pictures of any college yearbook anywhere.

At the HICKORY DAILY RECORD we acknowledge the interest and aid afforded us by Sports Editor Dan Richards; staff members Judy Reif and Lisa Eckard who helped in so many ways, and always cheerfully and willingly; and RECORD photographers Robert Reed, Bob Lupinek, and Peter Morris, who are among the best in the business.

And a special "thank you" to HICKORY NEWS editor Charles Deal, who has always been most cooperative in helping us with picture-problems; LR Business Manager Harry Livengood; Miss Iris Moore; Publicity Director John Hall; Lenoir-Rhynean editor Miss Kathy Lyerly; Dr. Marion Love; and David Moser.

Class pictures were photographed by Smith Studio of Raleigh; color work by Kelly Color of Morganton; and publication was by the Delmar Company of Charlotte.
